AROUND-WORLD TRIP IS OBJECT OF LINDBERGH'S

Flying Colonel Tells of His Globe-Girdling Plan
After Tokyo Hop.

COMPLETE ITINERARY
NOT YET MAPPED OUT

Return Across Atlantic Will
Be Made via Azores; Radio
Is Heard in Japan.

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh disclosed here tonight that he plans to continue his flight around the world after reaching Tokyo, the immediate destination of an aerial vacation trip from New York.

Without going into details of his proposed route, he said the vacation would be extended by a series of flights to Europe. He did not say whether his projected route lay across Siberia or south through China and India. A number of visits will be made first, he said, to Japanese and Chinese cities.

From Europe the crossing of the Atlantic to America will be made by way of the Azores Islands, he added. Impatient to be on his way despite rains over western Alaska, Col. Lindbergh expected to hop off for Siberia early tomorrow if the weather is at all favorable.

Heavy Rains General.

Heavy rains have been general in this vicinity, and westward over the Bering Sea to St. Paul Island several hundred miles to the west. At Karam Island, the flying vacationists' destination, favorable conditions were reported. The course westward from here, airmen pointed out, will be the first time a flight has been made across the Bering Sea by way of St. Lawrence Island, half way to the Siberian coast.

Meanwhile Nomeites, who had expected they would be forced to crowd entertainment for the flying vacationists into one day, were happy at the opportunity to show the Lindberghs more of this famous gold camp.

The same conditions frustrated the two attempts recently of Reg. Robbins and Harold Jones, Tacoma fliers, to make a nonstop refueling flight from Seattle to Tokyo. Clouds and fog were prevalent in this area while sunshine awaited them at the end of their route. Unlike Robbins and Jones and other fliers, the Lindberghs have no set schedule to follow and can take off and alight whenever and wherever conditions demand.

Plane in Readiness.

When the rain ceases everything is in readiness for the Lindberghs to leave Safety Bay, 21 miles from here, where their monoplane was moored Tuesday when the colonel decided the Nome River would not permit of a take-off with a heavy fuel load.

The colonel visited the plane yesterday and went over it with Nome mechanics. The tanks have been filled to their capacity or more than 800 gallons.

The Lindberghs were kept busy "seeing the sights." They were taken first to the gold fields, where huge dredges dig up the great mineral deposits. An Eskimo race in Kyak, an Eskimo "wolf dance," blanket-tossing and wrestling exhibitions by the natives completed the program. The Lindberghs were the guests of Territorial Senator and Mrs. Fred J. Lomen at an Alaskan dinner of roast reindeer meat.

On leaving Nome they will pass over the northern and western tip of St. Lawrence Island to Cape Navarin, on the Siberian coast, and then down the Kamchatka Peninsula.

Nemuro, Japan, Aug. 14 (Friday) (A.P.).—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh made their first radio contact with Japan today.

The operator at the Ohtsuka Wireless Station said he succeeded in catching several experimental messages broadcast by Mrs. Lindbergh on short waves at Nome, Alaska.

Army Flier Falls Dead
After He Lands Badly

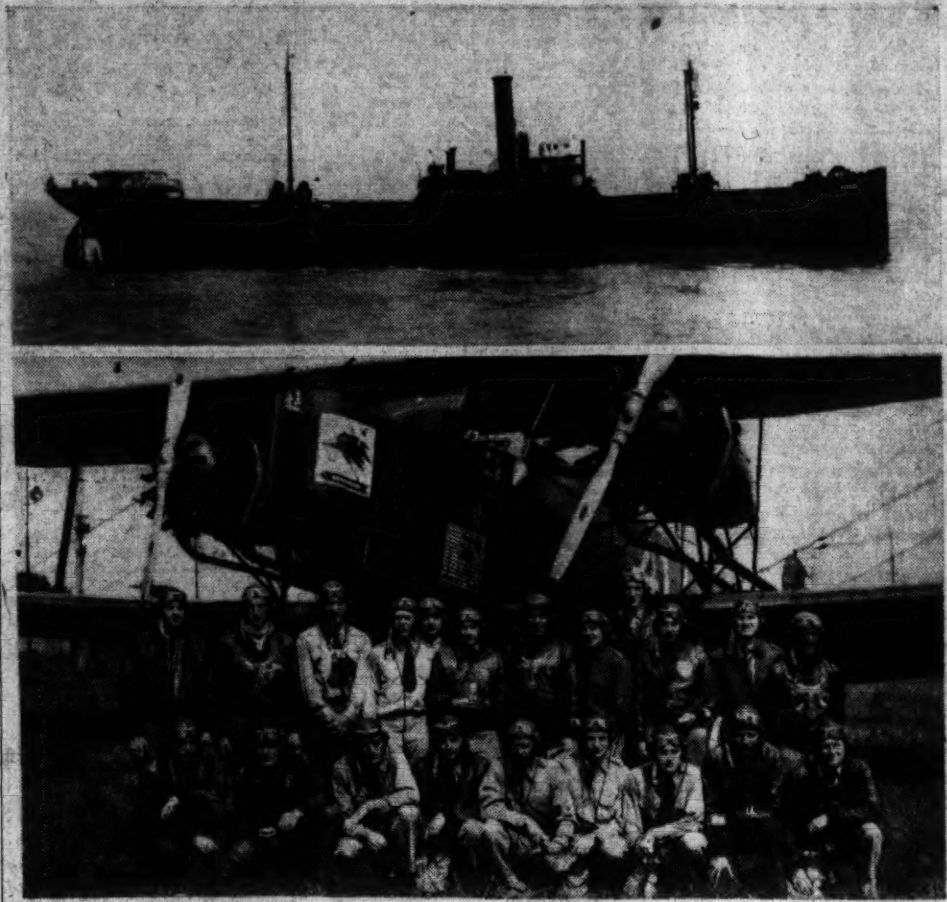

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Lieut. Roscoe Aukermann, 38, of Cincinnati, a Reserve officer at Selfridge field, near here, fell dead today a few minutes after he had made a bad landing after a training flight in an Army pursuit plane.

Lieut. Aukermann's plane was undamaged in the landing and he appeared to be unhurt, although the plane bounced several feet into the air after striking the field. Witnesses said the officer apologized for the bad landing, went to his quarters and fell dead five minutes later.

Doheny, Oil Magnate,
Reported Seriously Ill

Los Angeles, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, was reported seriously ill tonight at his home here. Dr. L. G. Vesscher, Doheny's personal physician, said he would consult the Doheny family tomorrow regarding the issuance of press bulletins and that until then he would not comment on his patient's condition. The doctor, however, denied reports that Doheny, who is 75 years old, had suffered a paralytic stroke.

TWO BIDS OFFERED FOR U. S. SHIP LINES

Chapman and International Mercantile Marine Seek Leviathan Fleet.

New York, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—America's giants of shipping appeared to be lining up today for a struggle over the control of the United States Lines, including the giant steamship Leviathan.

While as many as five separate propositions for the ships were expected when the United States Shipping Board announced it would receive bids today, only two offers were made, one by Paul W. Chapman, Chicago investment banker, who surprised his friends by acquiring control of the United States Lines from the Government two years ago, and now seeks to retain control, and the other by an old shipping firm, the International Mercantile Marine, originally sponsored by the late J. P. Morgan, and recently consolidated with the Roosevelt Steamship Lines, headed by Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late President.

After the bids had been opened both Mr. Chapman and P. A. S. Franklin, head of the International Mercantile Marine, issued statements urging the merits of their respective proposals. T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, said the proposals would be considered at a meeting tomorrow, and that a statement might be issued in Washington next week.

While Mr. Chapman appeared to be preparing for a struggle with the Eastern group, Pacific Coast interests which had been expected to take a hand, kept to the side lines. E. Stanley Doherty and Kenneth Dawson, Pacific Coast steamship operators, were present when the bids were opened, but submitted no bids of their own.

Gossip in shipping circles, however, indicated some feeling that they favored Mr. Chapman. At any rate, Joseph E. Sheedy, executive vice president of Mr. Chapman's company, who was expected to make a proposal for another group of unknown identity, announced he would stand aside pending decision of Mr. Chapman's offer.

The Chapman group submitted a bid offering to pay $3,170,000 in liquidation of "existing indebtedness" of the company to the United States Shipping Board, which Mr. Chapman described as "the highest bid filed."

The Chapman bid was submitted on behalf of his "associates and a substantial majority of the present stockholders of the United States Lines."

Rockefeller Kin Fined For Bath in Reservoir

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—John D. Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, today was fined $5 and costs in the Westhaven Town Court by Judge William L. Larash for bathing in the Malby Lake Reservoir of the New Haven Water Co.

Goldboro Man Held In Guardsman's Death

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Ben L. Thompson, Goldboro man under arrest in Richmond, Va., was named by a coroner's jury today as the slayer of John Peel, Marine Coast Guardsman, shot to death last Friday night.

Langley Fliers Vow They Won't Miss Ship Today, Nor Base Either.

Ingalls Pays Old Score
by Publicly Offering Hurley Assistance.

Piqued by the jibes of a rival service, Army Air Corps bombers, with blood in their eyes and enough explosive "to sink a ship," plan to fly out over the Virginia capes this morning and send the rusty old steamer Mount Shasta to the bottom of the deep blue sea.

Wednesday they failed to locate the abandoned merchantman, yelled as it was with low-hung clouds. Their return to Langley Field with bombs intact, after two hours of fruitless flight, has been a thorn in the side of the Army ever since.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy David S. Ingalls didn't increase their serenity of mind yesterday when he advised Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley that "trained" Navy men would be "glad" to undertake the bombing mission.

His Turn to Gloat.

Mr. Ingalls hadn't forgotten the public twitting he received from Secretary Hurley when a Navy cruiser failed to contact the U. S. S. Arizona, bearing President Hoover to the Virgin Islands.

But today 21 Army airmen, poised at Langley Field, swore they would make up for all. Their target, the Mount Shasta, a wartime freighter, which has been rusting in the James River since 1918.

Berlin Visit Looms By Laval, Briand

Return of Curtius Trip Is Planned With Date
Left Open.

Paris, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Premier Laval and Foreign Minister Briand will return to Berlin late this month to return the visit of Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius if M. Briand's health has sufficiently improved to permit the journey.

Leopold von Hoesch, German Ambassador at Paris, personally invited the premier today through the foreign office and extended an invitation to M. Briand, who is at Cocherel. The ambassador asked that the date of the visit be fixed between August 26 and 30.

Premier Laval accepted the invitation, but left the date open pending M. Briand's recovery. It was said at the premier's office the Berlin visit might possibly be made August 26 and 27.

Thomas Leiter Injured In Car Crash at Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Thomas Leiter, 21, of Washington, D. C., son of Joseph Leiter, capitalist, was injured last night when his automobile went through a fence and plunged 35 feet down a steep ravine.

He suffered facial bruises and cuts, but managed to extricate himself without aid.

U. S. Rule in Porto Rico Tested by Delegate

Mexico City, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Pedro Serrano, Porto Rican delegate to the World Peace Congress, today protested to the congress against American rule in Porto Rico and said he was authorized to make known in the name of the Porto Rican people their aspirations for immediate proclamation of a republic.

RAIL BROTHERHOODS FAVOR RATE BOOST

"Big Four" Groups Indorse
Move as Stimulus to Nation's Trade.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Support of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods for the proposal of railroads, that they be granted a 15 per cent increase in freight rates, was announced here late today in a statement issued by heads of the labor groups.

The brotherhoods' chief expressed belief that granting of the railroads' request will provide a "new stimulus to strengthen and support the business of the country."

The statement was issued by S. N. Berry, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; Alvany Johnston, grand chief engineer, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. F. Whitney, president, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and David B. Robertson, president, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Railway labor during the last decade has cooperated with railway management in the reduction of expenses through greater efficiency and economy of operation in order to maintain and train men, with a steadily decreasing freight revenue, "brought about principally by the vast number of rate reductions authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission during that decade," the statement said.

Moreover, it continued, "railway labor has suffered severely during the present depression in the furnishing of hundreds of thousands of men in the many more men reduced in employment to part time and about one-half of the number of engineers and conductors being reduced to firemen and trainmen, with a consequent decrease in pay."

"We have endeavored this in the spirit of assisting to maintain an essential balance between railway output and income. We are convinced that no further immediate economies can be applied sufficient to grant even partial relief to the railroads."

"We have carefully considered the application of the railroads for a general increase in rates in order to effect a partial restoration of revenues and have concluded that should the Interstate Commerce Commission wisely determine to grant the railroads the suitable general increase requested, and assuming that additional revenues so derived will be wisely used, that revenues will be sufficiently restored to maintain railroad credit."

Drunkenness Laid To U. S. Dry Agent

Woodcock Suspends Man
Also Accused of Hiring
Girl Informer.

(Associated Press.)
Prohibition Director Woodcock said last night Arthur C. Peach, Buffalo prohibition agent, had been suspended on a charge of drunkenness, and a similar accusation against Ralph Dell, another Buffalo agent, was being investigated.

The prohibition director, who earlier had been informed by his investigators that Dell also was suspended, said his decision in this case would await further reports.

In addition to the charge of drunkenness, Dell was accused of employing a girl, Ruth Callahan, to purchase liquor and act as an informer.

Peach, the director said, also had been charged with "being involved with a woman." He explained, however, the two cases were separate.

P. U. C. ORDERS GAS FIRM HERE TO HOLD FUNDS

Transfer of $26,020 to Chicago Company Is Prohibited.

OFFICE FILES YIELD
PAPERS TO PROBERS

Commission Acts Swiftly as
News Leaks Out; Suit
Is Contemplated.

Following closely upon disclosures made by William A. Roberts, special assistant corporation counsel, the Public Utilities Commission yesterday afternoon issued an order restraining the Washington Gas Light Co. from transferring $26,020 and control of a certain gas transmission main to subsidiaries of the Central Public Service Corporation, alleged owner and operator of the two local gas companies.

At the same time it was learned that further unheeded calls may be made at the gas company offices as the commission works up its case against the wealthy Chicago utility concern and its associates. On one of these visits the Department of Justice and the Internal Revenue Bureau agents may lend a hand if the required data is not immediately forthcoming.

The commission moved swiftly when it became known that news of Mr. Roberts' action had leaked out, and before the news was on the streets an order had been adopted to block the contemplated transfers. Had the exchanges been accomplished before this order was issued the commission would have had difficulty in recalling the fund.

Documents Kept Secret.

While the special assistant corporation counsel refused to disclose any of the admittedly valuable documents obtained from files of the gas company Tuesday and yesterday, he declared in a memorandum to the commission, "I obtained specific information and documentary proof that the Central Public Service Corporation with subsidiaries and agents is materially controlling the management of the local gas companies."

Officials of the gas company were taken back by the boldness of Mr. Roberts' action, the like of which he is believed to have executed before as special assistant corporation counsel.

He also stated that he has information "that a corporation to be known as the Washington Gas Transmission Co. is being formed to take over" the gas transmission line constructed by the Columbia Gas & Electric Co. through its subsidiary, the Maryland Gas Transmission Co., for the Washington company. This line was to be transferred to the Central Public Service Corporation "without payment to the Washington company."

The commission in its order, addressed to the local gas companies, the Washington Gas Transmission Corporation and "all affiliated or related corporations or persons," followed:

"The Public Utilities Commission has been informed that there has accrued to the credit of the Washington Gas Light Co. an amount of $26,020 on account of failure to supply gas."

Hawks Eclipse Air Mark He Set

Establishes New Record on Flight From Chicago to New York.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Capt. Frank M. Hawks who flew West to become Chief Chetan Kinyan, of the Sioux Indian tribe, returned at 6:05 p. m. Eastern standard time, today, establishing a new speed mark between Chicago and New York.

Capt. Hawks covered the distance in 3 hours 49 minutes, including his old mark of 4 hours 5 minutes. He left Chicago at 2:16 p. m. Eastern standard time, after a flight from Hot Springs, S. Dak., where he and Gov. Warren were honored by induction into the Sioux tribe.

Yesterday Hawks set up a New York-to-Chicago speed performance traveling the distance in 4 hours 4 minutes.

Hoover Dam Company Begins Employing Men

Las Vegas, N. Mex., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Six companies, Inc. contractors at Hoover Dam, began employing men this afternoon to resume construction. Work was suspended by the company last Sunday as result of a strike of 135 men over wages and living conditions. About 1,200 men were thrown out of employment.

Walker Young, construction engineer for the Federal Bureau of Reclamation requested resumption of activities. United States Marshal J. H. Fulmer placed the Boulder project reservation under what he termed "seminatorial" law.

Gandhi to Stay Away
From London Parley

Renewal of Civil Disobedience Campaign May Follow Refusal to Attend Conference Because of Alleged Breach of Delhi Pact.

Bombay, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Mahatma Gandhi, the frail, loin-cloth-clad leader of India's Nationalist millions, decided today to remain aloof from the second round table conference on Indian affairs to be held in London this fall.

At a meeting of the working committee of the Indian National Congress, a resolution, drafted by the mahatma and calling for abstention from the London parley, was adopted.

The committee took this decision because of "repeated serious breaches of the Delhi pact by the provincial government."

This pact, signed last March by Gandhi and Lord Irwin, then Viceroy of India, provided for abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign by the followers of the mahatma and for the correction of alleged abuses against which the Nationalists had long complained. It stipulated also that the Gandhi party would take part in the second round table conference.

The mahatma said he also was influenced by the fact that the present Viceroy, Lord Willingdon, refused to appoint an impartial tribunal to investigate alleged violations of the pact.

Gandhi informed the Associated Press today's decision does not mean his campaign of civil disobedience will be renewed immediately. It is certain, however, he will not consider the decisions of the impending conference binding on his followers, and it is considered likely that if the conference fails to grant the principal Nationalist demands, the mahatma will sound the call for a new fight against England.

Such a movement, Navy observers believe, would be more bitter and widespread than any in the past.

When the news of today's action got abroad street crowds, undaunted

DEATH CLAIMS MAN WHO DEFIED SENATE

Philadelphia Sheriff Refused to Tell Source of Political Fund.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Death has intervened to hold up the answer to the question, "Do you have to tell the United States Senate the source of your political contributions?"

For five years the Senate had been trying to have "Big Tom" Cunningham, sheriff of Philadelphia, tell where he got the $50,000 he said he contributed to the senatorial campaign fund of William S. Vare in the memorable battle of 1926, but today death stepped in and sealed his lips.

Thomas Wilbur Cunningham, staunch lieutenant of Boies Penrose when the latter was the dominant leader in Pennsylvania, ward leader, treasurer of the Republican State committee, and member of the "war board" of Philadelphia Republican organization, died at Atlantic City from a heart attack. He was 72.

His effort to keep from the ears of the Senate the source of the $50,000 was fought through the Federal District Court and the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals and twice reached the Supreme Court of the United States, with the prospect of its going there a third time.

While this battle was going on, the Senate refused to seat Joseph R. Grundy was appointed to the vacancy and defeated in an election

Havana, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Dispatches from Baez in Santa Clara Province tonight said rebel forces had burned the United Railways station at Agassas, near there, and had blown up the bridge over the Guarecasas River.

The insurgents cut telegraph lines between Pomento and Baez. It was reported and seized quantities of arms, retiring before the arrival of federal troops sent to check their movements.

President Gerardo Machado personally invaded Cuba's revolutionary strongholds in Santa Clara Province today and a full in the scattered fighting between troops and rebels indicated both sides had declared an informal truce, pending results of the president's visit.

TRIO OF MURDERERS
HOLD THEFT MOTIVE

Three Are Rushed to State Prison After Speedy Trial
on Confession.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Their clothes in tatters and their faces showing bruises caused by chance blows from the fists of rioters, three murderers—Nathan Blackstone, Frank Oliver and Fred Smith—reached safety tonight when they were rushed through the gates of the State prison.

The trio was chained together as officers unloaded them from an automobile after a speedy ride from Ann Arbor, where earlier in the evening they were sentenced to life imprisonment for the confessed murders of four young people near Ypsilanti.

Outside the prison walls 100 extra guards, called out by Warden Harry Jackson, kept back a crowd which seemed more curious than hostile. Highways from Jackson to the prison were lined with parked cars. The killers will be held here tonight and probably will be taken to Marquette Prison, on the upper peninsula, tomorrow.

Sentenced in Record Time.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Three men, who confessed the murder of four young persons in a "Lovers' Lane," near Ypsilanti, were sentenced in record time to life terms in the penitentiary tonight, after officials waged a running battle with a mob intent on lynching the slayers.

Nathan Blackstone, a Negro; Fred Smith and Harry Oliver were given four life terms each for the killing of Thomas Wheatley, Harry Low, Vivian Gold and Anna May Harrison. The unusual sentence, the maximum under Michigan law, makes it impossible for any of the prisoners to become eligible for parole.

Exploding tear gas bombs to keep back the crowds of angry men bent on lynching the confessed murderers, officers tonight fought their way to an automobile with their prisoners and escaped into the country with them.

Wild Shots Fired.

Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford Motor Co. service men, drove his car to the foot of the steps of the courthouse, officers jammed the steps and surrounded the car and a moment later it roared away with the prisoners. Two State police cars joined it. It was understood the party would go to Jackson State Prison, 30 miles away, for the night, and proceed on Marquette Branch Prison tomorrow.

The tear gas was effective in holding back the crowd long enough to permit the officers to get a start. Motorcyclists officers aided in clearing a path. A few wild shots were fired, but it was impossible to tell if they were from the crowd or by policemen.

The quick arraignment and sentencing came at the end of a day made dramatic by the arrest and confession of the three men, and the attempts of angry mobs here and in Ypsilanti to administer lynch law. A weird dream related by a negro aided in the solution of the crime which apparently was committed only because the murderers feared the four young persons would turn them over to the police on a robbery charge.

Mob Violence Fears.

Mob violence first flared at Ypsilanti, where a crowd stormed the jail after the report spread that Blackstone had confessed, and that Oliver and Smith had corroborated his story. From that time on more than 50 deputy sheriffs, 200 State policemen and patrolmen here and in Ypsilanti were fighting off the mob almost continually. A flying wedge of troops, swinging nightsticks and pistol butts, forced a lane through the mob at the Ypsilanti Jail, got the three men into automobiles, and started for Ann Arbor.

The crowd was close behind, yelling "burn them at the stake!" and "lynch them!" Details of the brutal

GLASSMAN FAVORS
HIGHER RAIL RATESIndustry Held Ready if I.C.C.
Decides Raise Necessary;
Chemists Opposed.

(Associated Press.)

Chemical manufacturers were represented before the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday as opposing increases in railroad freight rates, but a spokesman for the glass industry favored higher charges if the commission considers them necessary.

H. M. Mabey, of New York, speaking for the Manufacturing Chemists Association, said the proposed increases would "seriously dislocate industry" and lessen railroad tonnage.

William Martin, of the Philadelphia Quartz Co., contended the rate raises would lower rail revenues.

However, J. C. Davis, of Philadelphia, representing the Illuminating Glassware Guild, said his industry is one of the most depressed in the country and is working only 77 1/2 percent of capacity. Despite this fact, he said, the industry is willing to share its portion of the burden of increased rates.

If the commission approved the increased rates, he said, it would insert "more cheerful note" in the business situation, strengthen the railroad bond market and have a good psychological effect. He added that the employment of laid-off railroad employees could not help but give a "powerful stimulus" to industry.

Mr. Mabey said there was a feeling among chemical manufacturers that business would improve in the fall, but under questioning by railroad attorneys, he said he could give no definite indication of improvement.

He held an increase would tend to decentralize the industry through relocation of plants, a movement he saw as already begun. It would create a tendency to ship by trucks and other cheaper forms of transportation and reduce long railroad hauls, he added.

Would Lose Tonnage.

Mr. Martin, whose firm operates eight plants and manufactures silicate of soda, said his company preferred to centralize its plants but had been unable to do so and still compete with local firms.

He said an increase in rates would make necessary the construction of more plants or loss of business. In either event, he added, the railroads would lose tonnage.

"We recognize the importance," he asserted, "of keeping our railroads in condition to operate efficiently, but we question the wisdom of raising rates when at present rates they are already losing business to other competitive transportation systems."

Frank H. Luttrell, Baltimore, representing stone and lime companies, testified that increased freight rates would result in less revenue for the carriers because of localization of traffic and diversion to truck and water routes.

He estimated that on one of their products alone, lime stone, the railroads would lose $250,000 in annual revenue.

AVIATORS TRY ANEW
TO BOMB SHIP TARGET

River for a decade, is awaiting them, rolling in the deep water some 50 miles off the cape.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy, in his bantering message to the Secretary of War yesterday, detailed the difficulties encountered by the Army bombers, pointing out that while they failed to locate the Mount Shasta, a little group of Army planes experienced little difficulty in finding the ship.

Other Troubles, Too.

He reminded Mr. Hurley that the plane failed even to locate their home base off the return trip.

There were other minor incidents, including boiler trouble aboard the Army mine layer Gen. Schofield, the injury of two of the crew, and the marooning of three Coast Guard men aboard the freighter just before it was scheduled to be blown out of the water.

Secretary Inghall's letter read in part:

"Dear Pat:

"I recall with interest an incident that occurred during the President's trip to the Virgin Islands on board the U. S. S. Arizona last winter, and I remember that on a certain occasion, when contact between the battleship and one of our cruisers failed, you very kindly offered before various and sundry officers of that august body known as the press to furnish and afford the Navy an Army plane to assist us in effecting that contact."

One Good Turn, Etc.

"In view of your past consideration and helpful spirit I wish at this time to reciprocate in like manner. It would give me and the Navy Department the very greatest pleasure to place at the disposal of the Army Air Corps a few of the naval patrol flying boats of the scouting fleet which are at present temporarily based at Hampton Roads, for your brother service has viewed with sincere appreciation the difficulties experienced by the Army pilots in flying out of sight of land to discover and bomb the old hulk, the Mount Shasta."

"These difficulties are the better appreciated since the accomplishment of such type of activity has been the common practice for many years of the Naval Air Service. Our material has been constructed and our personnel trained with that end in view. Therefore, the Naval Aviation Service will be glad either to guide and convey the Army bombers to and from the target or, if necessary, even undertake the entire mission of finding and destroying by bombs said old hulk."

Bilbo, Spare That Crop!
Think of Tin Pan Alley

By JOHN J. DALY

COTTONOCRACY is asked by the Government to curtail the crop one-third, following a suggestion from Gov. Bilbo of Mississippi.

Just one moment! Bilbo, spare that crop! Touch not a single boll! Think what would happen to the Nation! Aside from its material use this crop has been the inspiration of every song writer who ever sought fame and fortune on Broadway. They come from the North, the East, and the West, these songsmiths, and never from the South, but their main theme has been the Sunny South, the fields of cotton, and Mammy!

Residents of Tin Pan Alley will tear their hair and scream in agony if one-third of the cotton crop is destroyed—if even one boll of cotton fails to wave tonight in the fields so far away, and a Nation, sitting by its radio, not hearing the plaintive yearning for a sight of them that fields, will go mad with any substitute of fiction.

"Picture tonight those fields of snowy white: Hear those daisies singing soft and low: I long there to be, where some one waits for me."

Down where the cotton blossoms grow."

Y! all means, save the cotton blossom! It was William Jennings Bryan, pacifist, who said a million citizens would spring to arms overnight. By the same virtue, a million mammy song writers are ready to march immediately down Broadway singing songs, shouting to the high heavens, for a redeemer to come and save their cotton. You can see Al Jolson—old General Al—leading an army of minstrel boys, going to the war against fourteen governors, with Sousa and his band playing his celebrated march, "Old King Cotton," and reviving the slogan, "Buy a Bale of Cotton."

This gallant army will see that no harm comes to the crop; that there will be no plowing under of every third row of cotton.

This is a serious situation—more serious than the Farm Board actually realizes. If it must curtail a crop, let it look to the alfalfa fields. Who ever heard a song to alfalfa?

Mr. Martin, whose firm operates eight plants and manufactures silicate of soda, said his company preferred to centralize its plants but had been unable to do so and still compete with local firms.

He said an increase in rates would make necessary the construction of more plants or loss of business. In either event, he added, the railroads would lose tonnage.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy, in his bantering message to the Secretary of War yesterday, detailed the difficulties encountered by the Army bombers, pointing out that while they failed to locate the Mount Shasta, a little group of Army planes experienced little difficulty in finding the ship.

Other Troubles, Too.

He reminded Mr. Hurley that the plane failed even to locate their home base off the return trip.

There were other minor incidents, including boiler trouble aboard the Army mine layer Gen. Schofield, the injury of two of the crew, and the marooning of three Coast Guard men aboard the freighter just before it was scheduled to be blown out of the water.

Secretary Inghall's letter read in part:

"Dear Pat:

"I recall with interest an incident that occurred during the President's trip to the Virgin Islands on board the U. S. S. Arizona last winter, and I remember that on a certain occasion, when contact between the battleship and one of our cruisers failed, you very kindly offered before various and sundry officers of that august body known as the press to furnish and afford the Navy an Army plane to assist us in effecting that contact."

One Good Turn, Etc.

"In view of your past consideration and helpful spirit I wish at this time to reciprocate in like manner. It would give me and the Navy Department the very greatest pleasure to place at the disposal of the Army Air Corps a few of the naval patrol flying boats of the scouting fleet which are at present temporarily based at Hampton Roads, for your brother service has viewed with sincere appreciation the difficulties experienced by the Army pilots in flying out of sight of land to discover and bomb the old hulk, the Mount Shasta."

"These difficulties are the better appreciated since the accomplishment of such type of activity has been the common practice for many years of the Naval Air Service. Our material has been constructed and our personnel trained with that end in view. Therefore, the Naval Aviation Service will be glad either to guide and convey the Army bombers to and from the target or, if necessary, even undertake the entire mission of finding and destroying by bombs said old hulk."

QUADRIPEL SLAYERS
GET LIFE SENTENCESAngry Mob Menaces Trio as Trial Is Speeded; Wild
Shots Are Fired.

crime circled swiftly and the crowd swelled with every passing minute. Men shouted details of Blackstone's confession to one another, related how he and his companions shot one of the youths after exacting a promise from the four young boys to let the car not to tell who had robbed them.

Began Systematic Slaughter.

Confessions differ as to who fired the first shot, but once blood was shed, the three men began a systematic slaughter. The two girls were dragged from the car and beaten and shot. Blackstone said the four bodies (he thought they were all dead) were loaded in the rear seat of the car and taken to a filling station, where he and his two companions purchased gasoline for the car.

They climbed out again, and Blackstone heard one of the girls in the back seat groan. The three men then halted the car and pounded the heads of the four victims until they were certain all were dead. They then burned the bodies.

Racing up to the frail brick jail here, a structure incapable of withstanding assault, the officers got their three prisoners inside just before the mob arrived. Then the problem of getting them to the courthouse, where Circuit Court Judge George W. Sample was waiting to accept their pleas of guilty and sentence them, confronted the officers.

Dream Leads to Arrest.

Another fight with the mob occurred. Police drove a car up across the courthouse lawn, and just three hours after the men had confessed they were in the courtroom. Details were related to the judge and the men were taken to the jail.

Even then a crowd of between 4,000 and 5,000 persons ranged across the courthouse lawn, shouting for police officials to "bring them out." Blackstone, a giant Negro, plainly showed the terror that gripped him by the moment he heard the crowd's roar.

He and his accomplices might have never been arrested (two brothers were taken to the jail, and the Negro finally confessed) and not Frank Johnson, a Negro friend of Blackstone's, had a dream after reading about the murders.

"In my vision I saw three men doing the deed," he said. "Well, the next night I saw Hot Tamale (his nickname for Blackstone) on the street."

Suspected Man Shock.

"I noticed his right hand was cut clear across the middle. Then I says to him, 'How come you cut your hand?' He said it was an accident. Then I says to him, 'You hear about those murders out on Lonesome road, Hot Tamale? Right away he begins to shake. He shakes from his head to his feet. So then I got powerful suspicious and I ran right down to the police station.'

The prisoners had been questioned constantly since their arrest, and today in the courtroom Blackstone broke under the strain and admitted the crimes, police said. He said the youthful couples, Anna May Harrison, 17, Vivian Gidd, 16, both of Cleveland, and Harriet, 16, and Thomas Wheatley, 16, both of Ypsilanti, were killed after they had recognized one of the trio who was robbing them.

Blackstone's confession was followed rapidly by that of Smith, a former convict, who lived next to the Lore family. Smith broke down when he heard that Blackstone had confessed.

Agrees to Tell All.

"I'll tell it all," he told Prosecutor Harry S. Toy, Wayne County. Blackstone and Smith immediately implicated Oliver, who was arrested and taken to jail. By this time news of the confessions had spread and a mob had formed at the city hall. As deputies brought Oliver inside the crowd clutched at him and tore his clothing before he could be locked in the jail.

They were ordered, begging the State police to protect him. Reserves were called out of the station to help manage the crowd, which was becoming more unruly every minute. Oliver begged for a chance to make a clean breast of everything. He at once began telling his story and the entire crime was quickly cleared up.

Robbed Four In Car.

In his confession Blackstone said: "On Monday night I thought we would go and rob a gambling game over at Milan. We got together and went over there and it didn't look good to us."

"I said we would go down the 'Lovers Lane' and knock off some of these here peters. They always is easy. We went down and saw this car, in which Miss Vivian Gidd, Miss Anna May Harrison, and Young Wheatley and Harry Lore were riding."

"We robbed them of some little things and a little bit of money. Then we saw that Wheatley had a gun on him. So we talked to him about it. The boys said they wouldn't make no complaint and we was for letting them go."

Says Smith Fired Shot.

"But Smith, he weren't satisfied. He said what about the girls? And then we got a hold on one of the girls and dragged her out of the car. She came out clavin' at him."

"We then lined them all up alongside the road and started to frisk them and make them promise not to tell—that was at Ypsilanti. First thing I knew Smith jerked a pistol out of his pocket and shot three or four times."

"Then we had to shoot them all. We knocked them down and put them in the back of their car. Oliver drove that back to Ypsilanti with us. We took our car and got some gasoline while Oliver waited a little while off with the Wheatley car and the bodies."

Two Brothers Released.

"We was scared they was not dead, so we took rocks and beat them in the heads until we were sure. Then, after we was sure, we drove the car off the road and set fire to it. We went right by the Lore home after we had killed those folks, with all the bodies in the car."

In contrast to the abject fear shown by the three killers was the happiness expressed by the two illiterate brothers, Paul and Lawrence Koen, who first were taken as suspects.

Brazil Offers Coffee
For U. S. Surplus Wheat

(Associated Press.)

An offer from the Brazilian government to exchange surplus coffee controlled by it for Farm Board stabilization wheat has been tucked away in the board's files for several months.

Chairman Stone said yesterday the offer had not been actively considered for some time. George S. Milnor, president and general manager of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, in Chicago, has had charge of the discussions.

The coffee offer, Stone said, was only one of many received on a number of commodities during the last six or eight months.

JUDGE CALLS TRIO'S
PENALTY TOO LIGHTUnderstands Mob Howling
for Vengeance Upon Slayers of Four.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 13 (A.P.).

In passing sentence here today upon the three killers of two young Michigan couples, Judge George W. Sample said:

"If I were to express my feelings on this occasion, I feel I would be compelled to say . . . that I feel like I am in the presence of fiends. I don't wonder that the crowd is howling for vengeance. If they had listened to this testimony that we have had to listen to, to give these parties their rights under the laws of the State, I am afraid they would not be as civil as they are."

"There is a law of civilization that we must not indulge. The law must take its course. The people of the State of Michigan have declared that the penalty for this crime is life imprisonment."

"We all know that it does not make the penalty severe enough in this case," Judge Sample continued, "but if the law as it is, is administered promptly and properly, that is all that we can ask. We are here to administer the law as it is, and all good citizens will abide by it. How human beings could act as you three have acted goes beyond me. I can't imagine it. The testimony made me heart sick—that our highways and our places of pleasure should have to be infested by such worms."

No Place for Trio.

"Society has no place for them. It never can. If they should live 1,000 years, they would not be fit to come back. I put them all on an equal basis. There might be something to say for Frank Oliver—but he associated himself with these men. Sometimes I feel discouraged. This young Smith has been before me for years, and prominent citizens of Ypsilanti have tried to do something for him, to show him what was right and wrong. Supervisors and other good citizens have tried to lead him right and I can't help believe that if it was not for him this crime would not have been committed."

"The others should not be misled by that statement. They are old enough to know better. I don't think it is necessary for me to say anything further and I proceed to the sentence."

Lands Police Work.

"It is the judgment of the court, and so is ordered, that these three respondents, in each of four cases for the murder of each of the four persons, be committed to that branch of the Michigan State Prison known as the Marquette Branch for and during their natural lives in each case, and the sentences are not to run concurrently. The court wants to make doubly sure that they are never again to menace society."

"The sheriff's department is authorized to remove them to Jackson Prison until they can be removed to Marquette."

"I wish to commend the sheriff, Mr. Harry Bennett (the Ford Motor Co. police chief) and the others—I want to commend you all for bringing to justice three fiends in human form so quickly."

GAMING ORDER HITS
BRIDGES ON BORDERTexas Spans Will Be Closed
at 9 P. M.; Revelers Suffer Blow.

Laredo, Tex., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Route

wheelers spun merrily tonight in Mexican towns along the "North American Riviera." Pleasure seekers crowded across Rio Grande bridges from the United States, knowing they would have only one more night when they might easily visit favorite gambling haunts and quench their thirst.

Seymour Lowman, Acting Secretary of the United States Treasury, has issued an order closing five international bridges over the Rio Grande from 9 p. m. each night until 8 a. m. the following day, effective Saturday night.

The bridges have been opened for longer periods since last March, when Mexican officials assured American authorities no gambling would be permitted along the border.

Concessionaires obtained permits, however, from the Mexican state of Tamaulipas.

Merchants of Matamoros and Nuevo Laredo immediately protested, claiming Mexican customers would squander their money gambling and would not buy necessities. Mexican soldiers then were stationed at the doors of gambling halls to prevent Mexican citizens from entering. This compelled the casinos to cater only to American tourists and Texans.

Public opinion in American towns played a strong hand in the controversy, also, as churches and public officials denounced the "night life" of Mexican night clubs and casinos. American girls, meantime, were ostracized in their own communities.

The bridges that must be closed at 9 p. m. after Saturday are at Laredo, Brownsville, Hidalgo, Eagle Pass and Del Rio. The bridge at El Paso is open until midnight, permitting traffic to and from Juarez, Mexico.

Protests were heard today from Americans and Mexicans alike. The Laredo Chamber of Commerce declared tourist traffic into Mexico would be lessened and the bridge closing would be detrimental to established trade relations between the two countries.

Authorities in Nuevo Laredo started negotiations through diplomatic channels to have the order rescinded. In Laredo, Mexican Consul General Francisco Castellanos, Jr., of Tamaulipas that under no circumstances would he permit the closing of bridges in Nuevo Laredo. This supposedly was meant as an order closing gambling in all Tamaulipas border towns.

(Associated Press.)

Americans with a flare for gambling were faced by a new barrier yesterday as the Government ordered closed at night five bridges leading across the Southern border to Mexican places of chance.

A mushroom growth of gambling casinos just across the Rio Grande has been the cause of Treasury to have brought a deluge of protests from Americans along the border and led to the closing order.

Instructions issued to the customs collector for the San Antonio district effective tomorrow told him to discontinue the 24-hour customs service to Mexico at Eagle Pass, Brownsville, Hidalgo, Laredo, and Del Rio.

In place of the 24-hour service the collector was ordered to close the border from 9 o'clock at night until 8 the next morning. The action of the night closing of the entire Texas border because there has been no 24-hour service recently at the other points of entry.

The bridge between El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, remains open until midnight, and its status will not be changed by the new procedure.

Protests Are Varied.

Acting Secretary Loman said protests against the 24-hour border opening had been received from Texas judges, United States senators and representatives, district attorneys, churchmen, newspaper editors and prominent citizens along the border. The 24-hour service was inaugurated last March.

Lowman said the protests complained that gambling casinos had been established in Mexican towns opposite the American cities which cater exclusively to American tourists and residents of the Texas border. Mexican soldiers stationed before the gambling houses, he said, prevented Mexican citizens from entering. The protests declared the all-night opening had led to "moral and financial degradation."

The petitions had asked that the border be closed at 7 o'clock at night, but the Customs Bureau believed that public convenience and necessity required that the ports remain open until 9 o'clock to accommodate travel and commerce between the two countries.

JURY TO LEAD URGED BY BANK HEAD

Executive Group Member Is
Heard in $1,300,000
Fraud Trial.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 13 (A.P.)—Wallace B. Davis personally recommended to his bank executive committee that loans of $1,300,000 be made to Luke Lea, of Nashville, through which the bank is alleged to have been defrauded. Dr. J. A. Sinclair, member of the committee, told the jury in the $1,300,000 fraud trial today.

Davis, who was president of the Central Bank & Trust Co. before its failure last November, is on trial with Lea, Luke Lea, Jr., and E. P. Charlet, on charges of conspiracy to defraud and misapplication of the bank's funds and credit.

Dr. Sinclair also identified minutes of the committee's meeting which referred to Lea's having agreed to purchase without recourse $100,000 worth of the bank's customers' notes and to arrange a $150,000 loan for the bank with the Holston Union National Bank of Knoxville, the local bank, would lend the Union Trust Co. of Nashville $300,000. Previous testimony showed such a loan to the Union Trust.

William McCants, former auditor of the Central Bank & Trust Co., testified this morning regarding his inability to reconcile a mass of credit transfers, deposits, checks and other transactions on books kept by Lea and those of the bank. The figures could not be made to agree, he said, adding that he returned Lea's balance sheet to E. P. Charlet and J. C. Bradford, cashier of the bank, and that Bradford asked Charlet to have Lea's books rechecked and to furnish the bank another record.

for the seat by James J. Davis, who now holds the place.

Cunningham refused to tell the Senate special committee, presided over at that time by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, where he obtained the money on the ground that it was irrelevant to the inquiry into excessive campaign expenses and that the Senate had no jurisdiction in the matter, because expenditures were made in a primary and not an election. The best efforts of the sharp-tongued Reed failed to move the Tenth Ward leader of Philadelphia, and he was eventually held in contempt by the Senate.

Later Cunningham was indicted by the District of Columbia court and he resisted removal to Washington. He lost in the Federal District Court in Philadelphia, but won when the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision, which in turn was upset by the Supreme Court.

Then the United States marshal in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in whose name the Government papers were drawn up, quit his job, and the Government had to try all over again under the name of the new marshal. The case was once more carried up through the courts until the Supreme Court again decided against Cunningham.

Apparently again, Cunningham in a demurrer then challenged the validity of the contempt indictment and that challenge was to have been decided by the Supreme Court in the coming fall.

Collision Hurts Youth, Driver Held.

Augustine C. Bourne, 20, 728 1/2 Eighth street, southeast, received minor bruises yesterday when his motorcycle was struck by a truck at Connecticut avenue and Twentieth street northwest. Reckless driving was charged against Bourne. He was taken to the hospital. The case was operating the truck, according to police.

When Washington Was Younger—No. 13

GAS buggies, they called them in the days when this photo was snapped at the Washington Light Infantry Hall, the scene of all Washington's exhibits such as this automobile show.

The car in the foreground, known as the "Thomas White Flash," is no longer a familiar sight on the streets of the Capital, but in 1905 it was quite the scene of perfection among automobiles.

Its popularity at that period is attested by the gathering of automobile "experts" photographed in it. In the background may be seen some of the earlier model Buicks, a brand still very much in the automobile limelight after 25 years. It must have been tough when it rained on these models.

PINCHOT URGES U.S. LOAN FOR JOBLESS

Governor Disclaims Political Motives in Advocating Federal Program.

Detroit, Aug. 13 (A.P.)—Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, in an address here today advocated Federal unemployment aid through the floating of a huge Government loan and a national economy program to stabilize business conditions.

At the same time Gov. Pinchot took occasion to declare that his remarks were not a "bid for the Republican presidential nomination." "I realize that what I am about to say will undoubtedly be condemned, denounced or ridiculed as a bid for the Republican presidential nomination," he said in a speech before the Pennsylvania State Bar Association.

He was even held in contempt by the Senate.

Later Cunningham was indicted by the District of Columbia court and he resisted removal to Washington. He lost in the Federal District Court in Philadelphia, but won when the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision, which in turn was upset by the Supreme Court.

Junta in New York Brands Machado as Cuba's Enemy

New York, Aug. 13 (U.P.)—A Cuban junta, helping to direct the island revolt from a suite of rooms in the Biltmore Hotel, revealed what it hoped to accomplish today, and admitted it anticipated considerable bloodshed.

The spokesman was Dr. Domingo Capote, 68-year-old attorney and professor of political law at the University of Havana. He and Col. Carlos Mendia, Col. Aurelio Hevia and Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez are influential members of the revolutionary council.

"President Machado has destroyed the rights, liberties and property of the Cuban people," Capote said. "He has set himself up as a dictator and sapped the land of its vitality." "I realize that what I am about to say will undoubtedly be condemned, denounced or ridiculed as a bid for the Republican presidential nomination," he said in a speech before the Pennsylvania State Bar Association.

He was even held in contempt by the Senate.

Later Cunningham was indicted by the District of Columbia court and he resisted removal to Washington. He lost in the Federal District Court in Philadelphia, but won when the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision, which in turn was upset by the Supreme Court.

Then the United States marshal in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in whose name the Government papers were drawn up, quit his job, and the Government had to try all over again under the name of the new marshal. The case was once more carried up through the courts until the Supreme Court again decided against Cunningham.

Apparently again, Cunningham in a demurrer then challenged the validity of the contempt indictment and that challenge was to have been decided by the Supreme Court in the coming fall.

MACHADO GOES TO 'WAR ZONE' TO SEEK PEACE SETTLEMENT

dieta might be empowered to speak for Gen. Machado, opposition leader, who is believed to be located in Oriente, and Mariano Miguel Gomez, former Mayor of Havana, should occasion arise for peace negotiations.

All information as to the actual purposes of the president's trip was fragmentary, however. It was not known, even, how long he intends to stay.

Only from Pinar del Rio Province, where most of the fighting has taken place, did reports come today of fresh conflict. These were rumors.

Senator Alfredo Hernandez, close friend of President Machado, who has taken up the role of peacemaker, set out for the eastern part of the island, hoping to meet Menocal.

New Battle Imminent.

Reports from Occidente today said that troops, including two detachments of artillery and one of machine guns, were converging on 900 rebels said to have been located by scouts. The place of expected action was not revealed.

Three deaths in action were reported today. This placed the total casualty list to date, according to one count, at 66.

Porfirio Ciles, wounded in Pinar del Rio, died in Havana today. An engagement in Contramaestre took the lives of two persons, one of them reported to be the son of former Senator Aurelio Alvarez, now in the United States.

All Retired List Called.

Orders went out from army headquarters this afternoon for all retired officers to report at once, including Col. Rosendo Collazo, now in New York, on whom revolutionary forces have counted.

A different light was put on conditions in Pinar del Rio by oppositionists arriving from that province, who reported many army casualties during the recent fighting there.

Riot Squad Rushes Silk Mill Strikers

Police Take Six Persons;
Brother Officer Attacked
as Parade Ends.

Pateron, N. J., Aug. 13 (U.P.)—A police riot squad charged striking Communist silk mill workers in the heart of the city today after strikers had assaulted Motorcycle Officer Fred Peterson.

The clash occurred at the end of a parade of 2,000 men, women and children through the downtown streets to a vacant lot at Prospect and Ellison streets. When the officer attacked, the crowd, several men attacked him. The riot squad came on the run and diligent use of nightsticks soon restored order.

One woman, who was taken to a hospital for treatment of scalp lacerations. Four men and two women were arrested. After the clash the strikers proceeded with a protest meeting in the vacant lot, with police standing guard.

Swift Acquires New Concern.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13 (A.P.)—Sale of the St. Louis Independent Packing Co. here to Swift & Co. for $1,500,000 in cash, was approved at a stockholders meeting yesterday by a "substantial majority," Louis E. Dering, president of the independent Packing Co., announced today.

PLEA OF CLEMENCY FOR FALL IS DENIED

Decision Reached by Attorney General Without Consulting President.

(Associated Press.)

Albert Bacon Fall, once Secretary of the Interior, but now prisoner 6,991 in the New Mexico State Penitentiary, yesterday lost his last hope of clemency from the hands of a former fellow Cabinet member—President Hoover.

From Attorney General Mitchell came the quiet announcement that Fall's plea had been settled without even being submitted formally to the White House for decision.

As explanation, he pointed to a comparatively recent executive order providing that when the judges and prosecutors in a case advise against complying with plea for clemency, it is rendered null and void save in exceptional cases. He handed a slip of paper to waiting newspapermen, upon which was written:

None Advise Clemency.

"None of the persons so consulted in this case advise clemency and the Attorney General has determined there is no reason to make a special order submitting the papers to the President."

"Under the rules the papers will be automatically filed away without further action. This course amounts to a denial of the application."

Thus the corner Cabinet officer, who was sentenced on a year and a day in prison and fined $100,000 for accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny, must continue in confinement at least four years before he can hope for a parole can be considered for him.

In Seventeenth Year.

Fall entered the penitentiary of his home State on July 20. In his seventeenth year, and suffering from various ailments, he described the ambulance that carried him to prison as a "damned hearse."

The opinions of three men were sought upon the clemency plea submitted in Fall's behalf.

One was Justice William Hitz, now of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, who sentenced the former Secretary. The others were Ailes Fomenko, of Cleveland, special prosecutor for the Government in the oil trials, and United States District Attorney Leo A. Rover.

Under the same Executive order that allowed their votes to close the Fall plea, another clause provided that these opinions shall not be made public.

The closing chapter in Fall's long fight for clemency was written with unexpected suddenness. There had been speculation that the application might be denied at the White House, but little that the decision would be made before it reached the penitentiary.

President Hoover, who was Secretary of Commerce while Fall served as chief of the Interior Department, said at the dedication of the Harding Tomb at Marion, Ohio, that the former President had been "betrayed by a few of the men whom he had trusted."

Case Carefully Considered.

When the Attorney General was questioned at his regular press conference concerning when action might be taken on the Fall case, he replied he had already "prepared a short statement." In a few brief words it said that the case had been "given careful and complete consideration" but that opinion had been unanimously against granting of the plea.

While this action took place at the Justice Department, the Supreme Court was receiving another entry in the long series of oil trials that followed the Harding administration.

A brief was filed by the Government, opposing the review of two cases filed by Harry M. Blackmer, Colorado oil operator, seeking to set aside fines of $60,000 imposed upon him for refusal to return from France to testify in the trial of Harry F. Sinclair, indicted on charges of conspiracy in connection with the Teapot Dome oil lease. Sinclair later was acquitted.

Pope and Rover, who prepared the brief, contended that Blackmer had been legally served with a summons to appear in the case and that his "deliberate refusal to obey" placed him in contempt of court.

The brief maintained that, since citizens temporarily residing abroad could be brought back for military service, there was no question but that Congress and the courts could require them to return as witnesses in criminal trials.

Wife Says Hitz Inconsistent.

Three Rivers, N. Mex., Aug. 13 (A.P.)—Mrs. Albert B. Fall, wife of the former Secretary of the Interior, now serving a term in the New Mexico Penitentiary, said here today that "courts, juries, newspapers and 'mind people' could not put guilt where no crime had been done."

She termed Justice Hitz's refusal to recommend clemency "inconsistent" with his expressed willingness at the end of Fall's trial, on charges of accepting a bribe, to suspend his sentence of a year. Justice Hitz said then if Fall accepted sentence at that time he would suspend it because of Fall's health.

It took the son 24 years to do the debt, but he finished with them today. First he sold his father's estate and used the money to make up part of the losses. Then he entered the real estate business and later the stock market.

Struggle of Son Wins Against Debt

Deathbed Vow to Father to Pay $600,000 Owed Kept After 24 Years.

New York, Aug. 13 (U.P.)—A 24-year uphill battle to fulfill the dying wish of his father ended today when John G. Jenkins, Jr., filed a document in the Nassau County clerk's office showing that he had satisfied a judgment of $600,000.

Twenty-four years ago a chain of banks on Long Island closed. Jenkins' father headed the institutions and depositors lost about $1,200,000. Jenkins, Sr., on his deathbed, asked his son to see that every depositor got 100 cents on the dollar.

It took the son 24 years to pay off the debt, but he finished with them today. First he sold his father's estate and used the money to make up part of the losses. Then he entered the real estate business and later the stock market.

The GIRL About Town

LUNCHING with Cynthia at the Lotus Lantern yesterday, she showed me a letter from Lady Nancy Astor saying she was coming to the United States this fall to attend the Yorktown celebration. Perhaps, as an American-born British peeress, she is to act as referee for the show. I wonder if Lady Astor will pass much time in Washington. Last time the International Association of Policewomen, of which she is head sponsor or something, gave a luncheon for her at the Carlton. They almost had to call out the International Police to keep strangers from crashing the gates.

Later we had tea at the Mayflower and chatted with Billy Cheung. Wonder of wonders! All he could talk about were the exploits of William Jeffries-Cheung, 36. A family man now, Billy Cheung becomes the role. His son, as he appears to be the Cousin Millions, is becoming very reticent, and refuses to be interviewed.

IN the Union Station seeing Aunt Melinda off, I saw the arrival of Duc de Gramont, the French scientist and nobleman who has come here to do a little star-gazing through our big telescopes. Well, he'll find we make more of his title in this country than they do in his home land, about which they have been democratic for more than a hundred years.

Got a steamer letter from Hallie Ezzell Rives, wife of Purdy Wheeler, United States Minister to Paraguay. Hallie adopted the Lucy Stone idea of married women retaining their own names, long before female publicity chasers made the fact a nuisance. The thing that really pees Hallie is to have some one mistake her for her cousin Amelia, who married a Russian prince in the days when they were worth having.

I MET a bureau chief of the Navy Department dancing at the Shoreham. I asked if Representative Fred Britten really was trying to steal the fleet from Newport. He just laughed and said that Fred had to be entertained at Montauk Point during his summer vacation, somehow. But what about those Newport hostesses who need snappy naval officers to set off their parties? Have they no rights?

Bought my gift for Faith Adams in Shaw & Brown's. She's a sweet girl, and I know she will be happy with Owen Young's son. Wouldn't it be marvelous if Owen Young should reach the White House and our own Faith should live there?

GAS COMPANY FUNDS HELD UP BY P. U. C.

natural gas to the aforesaid company. It is further informed that the Washington Gas Light Co. contemplates payments to the Public Service Engineering Co. for gas received with-out deduction for the account of this credit.

Payment Declared Illegal.

"It is further informed that the Washington Gas Light Co. has or is about to make certain other payments for supplies and personal service which have not been approved by the Public Utilities Commission and which are contrary to law. It is, therefore, ordered that the Washington Gas Light Co. and all affiliated or subsidiary companies and persons are hereby expressly forbidden to make any payments to the Central Public Service Co. or any of its affiliated or related companies or its or their agents, until such time as said payments are approved by this commission."

"The Public Utilities Commission is informed that the Washington Gas Light Co. contemplates transferring the ownership and or control of a certain 12-inch gas transmission main, extending from the District line at Eighteenth street northeast to its east station works, which was authorized to be constructed by the aforesaid Washington Gas Light Co. on October 30, 1930.

"The Washington Gas Light Co. is hereby notified that any such transfer is deemed by this commission to be unlawful, without the consent of the commission, and the said company is hereby expressly forbidden to transfer the ownership and or control of the said property and until consent of the commission shall first be obtained."

Sale Contract Not Filled.

Another discovery reported to have been made by Mr. Roberts, but not officially verified is that the Washington gas companies are paying 4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet more for natural gas than goes to the Columbia Gas & Electric Co., which supplies it, and that this difference is paid to the Central Public Service Corporation.

The contract by which the local companies buy this natural gas has never been filed with the commission. While Mr. Roberts will continue to gather evidence to aid him in prosecution of a contemplated suit against the alleged owners of the gas companies, the actual suit charging a violation of the La Follette anti-trust law will not be filed until after the scheduled hearing on September 21.

JUDGE G. B. GARDNER IS DEAD AFTER FALL

Chairman of Appeals Board of Interior Department
Killed in Connecticut.

Judge George B. Gardner, 64 years old, of 2949 Macomb street northwest, chairman of the board of appeals of the Interior Department, died yesterday at Sharon, Conn., as the result of a fall suffered Sunday in that city, where he was visiting his daughter.

Judge Gardner suffered a fractured skull from the fall and was conscious for only a few intervals after the fall until his death. His wife, Mrs. Betty Gardner, was with him at the time.

He came to Washington 30 years ago to accept a position with the Interior Department, with which he had been connected since that time in various capacities. He came here from Lexington, Ky., where he received his early education and began the practice of law. He was a member of the Washington Country Club.

His wife and daughter, Mrs. Chauncey Landon, of Sharon, Conn., are the only immediate survivors. Plans for funeral service and interment had not been made last night, although it was said that they will be held in Washington tomorrow.

SUSAN DEVEREUX DIES.

Aged Woman Will Be Buried in North Carolina.

Miss Susan Harrison Devereux, 92 years old, died yesterday morning at the Louise Home, 1500 Massachusetts avenue northwest, after a year's illness, due to old age. She had lived in Washington for more than 20 years, coming here from Petersburg, Va.

She was the daughter of the late Thomas Pollock Devereux and Anne Mary Matland Devereux, of Raleigh, N. C. She was a member of the Church of the Pilgrims in Washington.

She is survived by several distant relatives both in Virginia and Raleigh, N. C., where the body was sent last night for interment after funeral services had been held at the Louise Home yesterday afternoon.

MISS EMMA S. JONES DIES.

Long Time Resident of City Succumbs to Year's Illness.

Miss Emma S. Jones, of 2304 Kalorama road northwest, died Wednesday at the Takoma Park Sanitarium after a year's illness. She was 69 years old, and had lived in Washington most of her life.

She was a member of the U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post of the American Legion Auxiliary. Her parents, the late William S. and Anne W. Jones, died several years ago.

Survivors include a brother, Harry Jones, and a niece, Mrs. Clarence Dodge, of this city. Funeral services will be held at late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial in Glenwood Cemetery.

Body, Possibly Cramer's, Sighted by Crew of Ship

Haugesund, Norway, Aug. 13 (A.P.). The body of a man, killed in what appeared to be flying apparel, was seen Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock floating west of the island of Foula by the crew of the Norwegian steamer Sjøglint, which arrived here today.

The crew thought it might have been the body of Parker D. Cramer, American aviator, who has not been heard from since he took off from the Shetland Islands for Copenhagen.

De Priest to Face Keen Opposition

Louis Anderson, Educated in District Schools, Invited to Make Race.

That Representative Oscar DePriest, of the First Illinois District, will have serious opposition when he comes up again for election was indicated yesterday by an invitation extended to Louis B. Anderson, colored alderman of the Third Ward, to enter the congressional race. The alderman is a product of the public schools of the District of Columbia and as a member of the Chicago City Council, for more than a decade, distinguished himself as a parliamentarian. He was council floor leader for Mayor Thompson from 1915 to 1919, as well as a member of the finance committee.

The invitation sets forth that Representative DePriest is "by temperament and ability unfitted for the position" and that he is "devoid of all sense of propriety and dignity."

Representative DePriest, through a committee of twelve which met in his office at the Capitol recently, has called a convention, nonpartisan in character, to meet here at the opening of Congress to formulate plans and policies with reference to the political future of the Negro, which is calculated to develop a national political leadership. The move to oppose him with Anderson, his strong political supporter in both of his previous campaigns, has been analyzed by colored politicians as one calculated to thwart this national political leadership.

Fight to Be Waged For Ousted Dean

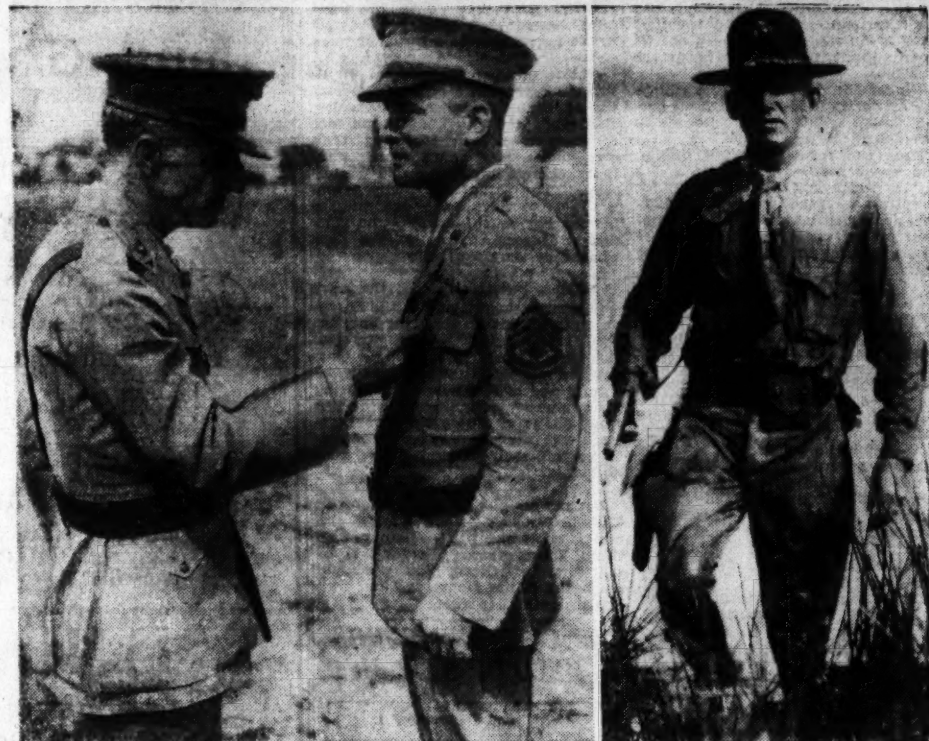

Reinstatement of Dr. Donawa at Howard Aim of Counter Move.

Despite the appointment Wednesday of Dr. Russell Dixon as acting dean of the Howard School of Dentistry, to succeed Dr. Arnold Donawa, former head, who was ousted for insubordination, it is understood that groups sympathetic to Dr. Donawa are still hopeful of having him reinstated and are at present petitioning the board of trustees to grant a hearing on the case when they meet next October in New York.

Among other organizations, the Interstate Dental Association, comprising "leading colored dentists throughout the East," have forwarded to the board a lengthy survey of the case, requesting that full publicity be given the matter and that Dr. Donawa be reinstated.

At the present time Dr. Dixon is carrying on the duties of dean of the College of Dentistry and will continue to do so until October, when it is believed that the board of trustees will appoint a full dean to take over the office. Whether this will be Dr. Dixon, Dr. Donawa or a new man is not known at the present time.

MELTING POT WANES UNDER ALIEN LIMIT

Typical Americans Beginning to Dominate in Nation, Census Reveals.

(United Press.)

The melting pot has about ceased its melting, due to lack of new material, a Census Bureau analysis reveals, and the American type of mankind is in position to become more or less fixed.

Largely because of the restriction of immigration, the foreign-born white population increased only negligibly between 1920 and 1930, from 13,255,394 to 13,366,407, or eight-tenths of 1 per cent. The foreign-born now constitute 12.3 per cent of the total white population.

Of the total white population of 108,864,207, counted by the 1930 census, 95,497,800 were native born, or 87.7 per cent. This represents an increase of 17.7 per cent since 1920, when the native-born whites numbered 80,864,980.

Effect of Melting Pot.

The native-born white population is broken down into several classes, and shows the effect of the melting pot as it worked in previous generations when ambitious foreigners came swarming to these shores in search of an El Dorado.

Those born of native parents formed the largest proportion, numbering 70,138,614, or 64.4 per cent of the total. They increased 20.1 per cent between 1920 and 1930, when they numbered 58,421,957. Those with foreign or mixed parents numbered 25,361,186, or 23.3 per cent, an increase of 13 per cent since 1920, when the total population of this character was 22,443,023.

Those born of foreign parents numbered 16,999,221, or 15.6 per cent, an increase from 15,521,835 in 1920, or a percentage increase of 9.5 per cent. Those of mixed parentage totaled 8,361,965, or 7.7 per cent, an increase of 20.8 per cent since 1920, when they numbered 6,921,188. This largest percentage of increase is in a class that was a product of the melting pot.

Degrease of Foreign-Born.

The Census Bureau shows the decrease of foreign-born in the South since 1920, when they numbered 870,750. Now the foreign-born population in the South is only 352,175, a decrease of 10.8 per cent. There was an increase of three-tenths of 1 per cent in the foreign-born population numbered 11,386,553 in 1930.

The report shows the exodus of both the foreign-born and native white population to the West. The foreign-born population in the West increased 10.4 per cent in the ten years to a total of 1,447,679, the increase being largely in California.

The native white population of native parents increased 37.7 per cent in the West in the ten years; 18.8 per cent in the North, and 17.9 per cent in the South.

Woman Seized by Gypsies As Child of 5 Finds Family

Lapse of 33 Years, Her Own Name Unknown, Whiten Hair Before Friends of Victim Locate Brother in Pennsylvania.

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 13 (A.P.). For 33 years "Annie Morgan" went through life without knowing who she was, with the details of her kidnapping as a child faded by time, and with her experiences as a Gypsy captive a chapter she never wanted to remember.

But today she discovered she was Miss Mary Rebecca Hubler, and at Pottsville, Pa., her brothers and sisters eagerly prepared for the homecoming of their lost "little sister," who vanished when a child of 5.

As she engaged an automobile to take her back to the home she could no longer remember and the family she had forgotten, white-haired Miss Hubler wept and tried in vain to dig out of the recesses of her mind some fragmentary details of "life before the kidnapping."

One day back in 1898, as she played on a country road, she saw a group of men and women in gay red-and-yellow garb approaching in a wagon. They stopped, and when they started again the child was in the wagon with them, a captive.

When night came and she failed to return to her home a searching party thrashed through the nearby mountains in the belief she had wandered there. The hunt went on for days and finally was abandoned. Neighbors were convinced that Mary had perished in some out-of-the-way spot in the hills.

Kiwanians Belong To 'Two-a-Day' Club

Ten Meetings Attended in Five Days by Four, Setting Record.

Formation of a "Two-a-Day" Club by four members of the local Kiwanis Club, who recently attended ten meetings in five days, breaking all records for the 1,817 clubs in America, was announced at yesterday's meeting in the Washington Hotel. Officers of the new club are Edwin F. Hill, president; Zachariah Demetrius Blackstone, vice president; Harry G. Kimball, secretary; and Eugene R. Woodson, treasurer.

Ceremonies included presentation of the charter to the club. John J. Boobar, past president, and Edgar Morris, another former president, were in charge. Charles W. Pimper, chairman of the orthopedic and welfare committee, reported 98 active cases on the club's list; 51 patients in the Kiwanis clinic and 140 visits by staff nurses.

Harry O. Schroeder, president of the Frederick, Md., club, invited local Kiwanians to attend an outing meeting of the Frederick and Hagerstown clubs at Braddock Heights next Thursday, when a program will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A terpin rap race, with 75 terpins entered, will feature the affair.

Meanwhile, the Gypsy tribe had wandered far with their little prisoner. She cried when they asked her her name, so they called her "Annie Morgan," and she bore that name until today.

Then, after seven years in captivity she escaped one night in Pamplin, Va. For thirteen years she lived there with a family that befriended her and then came here in 1916 to become a housekeeper for a Lynchburg couple.

Recently a Methodist Evangelist, the Rev. M. R. Harvey, and his wife became interested in "Annie Morgan." They listened to what she could remember of her kidnapping and set to work on a search for her kin.

While in Birmingham, Ala., they wrote to the postmaster of Philadelphia, asking his aid in the hunt. A story was published last week in Philadelphia papers and was read by two of Miss Hubler's relatives, who communicated with Mr. Harvey at his home in Cherrydale, N. C. The evangelist and his wife came here to work on the case.

They discovered that some of her six brothers and sisters were no longer living, that her father died three and a half years ago and that her mother died two years ago. But in Pottsville they located one of her brothers, Samuel Hubler, and arrangements for the reunion were made.

Infantile Paralysis Blood List Is Asked

Medical Body Statement Reassuring on Disease Spread in District.

There are no more than a normal number of cases of infantile paralysis in the District and there appears to be no reason to anticipate any serious situation in the future was a statement released yesterday by the Medical Society of the District of Columbia.

It is requested, however, that in order to guard doubly against spread of the disease that those who have had the paralysis at any time register their names and addresses with the Medical Society so that they may be reached should blood for serum be needed.

It is stated this donation of blood will do no harm to a donor and may be of vital importance to one who needs aid. Communications should be addressed to the Clinical Laboratory, Garfield Memorial Hospital, or by calling Adams 7500.

MARINE FORCE WINS IN IMAGINARY CLASH

Sergt. C. R. Darrah Is Presented Navy Cross by Gen. Butler.

In a battle against an imaginary enemy yesterday, 300 Marines of the First Regiment captured an artillery position established to guard a main railway near Quantico.

Airplanes laid down a smoke screen as the Marines, attacking in two groups, waded ashore from nine Navy motor launches, which had approached the enemy position on the Potomac River.

To aid the attacking party, a section of airplanes centered on the enemy position and dropped fragmentation bombs among the enemy guns. Near the imaginary artillery position soldiers released smoke bombs, in simulation of smoke shells hurled from an imaginary fleet in the rear of the attackers.

During the day Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, head of the Marine Barracks at Quantico, presented a Navy Cross to First Sgt. Clyde R. Darrah, U. S. M. C., for distinguished service in battle in Nicaragua.

Darrah served in the Guardia Nacional de Nicaragua as a first lieutenant. In this capacity he commanded a patrol near Puerto Cabezas, on the east coast of Nicaragua, which defeated an overwhelming force of bandits and killed their leader, Pedro Blandon, one of the followers of Sandino.

Darrah took command of the patrol after Capt. Harlan Peffer was killed in combat. The citation asserted First Sgt. Darrah's courage "contributed in the greatest degree to the complete defeat of the bandits and to the death of their leader."

Two Radio-Controlled Boats Will Be Targets

(Associated Press.)

The destroyers Boggs and Kilty now at the San Diego, Calif., destroyer base, were named yesterday by the Navy Department as the ships selected for conversion into radio-controlled target vessels.

When completed, they will be similar to the Stoddert, which has been operated successfully off San Diego without a man on board.

The Boggs is to be towed to Mare Island, Calif., Navy Yard, shortly to undergo conversion. The job is expected to take about six months. Work on the Kilty probably will not be started until the Boggs is finished.

Girl Says Father Slew Her Escort

Again Changes Story as to Petting Party Killing; Parent Silent.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Glenda King, 18, who was with Lewis Palmer, 19, on a petting party the night of July 20, when he was shot and killed and who accused a stranger, then two of her former sweethearts as the slayer, tonight named her own father, Roy A. King, 41, as the real killer.

"The father hasn't confessed, but he hasn't denied it," Sheriff R. M. Jackson said. Glenda's latest version of the petting party murder was one of many, and in it she refused to give details except to accuse her father of the crime.

The startling statement followed release of Floyd Spears, 23, former sweetheart of Glenda, who established an alibi after being held since Monday on the girl's accusation.

The sheriff said Andrew Petricko, 31, former inmate of the State Reformatory, who also was once accused by Glenda, probably would be released.

NYE SEES EARLY END IN CANNON FUND QUIZ

Committee Is Expected to Meet This Month; 20 Witnesses Left.

(Associated Press.)
Early completion of the inquiry into the use of campaign funds in 1928 by Bishop James Cannon, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was predicted yesterday by Chairman Nye, of the Senate campaign funds investigating committee.

Senator Nye announced the committee would resume hearings later this month, if 20 members can attend. About twenty more witnesses are to be heard, he said, but he believed these could be examined without much delay.

The Senate investigators are not concerned at the recent departure for Europe of Bishop Cannon. He was notified last May by Senator Nye that the hearings would be resumed late in August or early in September.

"We can complete our investigation," said Nye, "and learn all that we need to know without hearing Bishop Cannon."

Before sailing for Europe, the bishop filed proceedings in the District of Columbia Supreme Court seeking to block the committee's investigation, but Wednesday the court ruled against him and gave the committee a clear road ahead.

Representative Tinkham (Republican), Massachusetts, preferred the charge before the committee that Bishop Cannon failed to account, as required by law, for all of the $65,300 intrusted to him as chairman of the anti-Smith committee in Virginia in the 1928 campaign.

Britten to Suggest Activity for Fleet

Naval Affairs Chairman Would Send Ships to Wider Areas.

New York, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Representative Fred A. Britten, chairman of the House naval affairs committee, says he intends to propose to Admiral W. V. Pratt, Chief of Naval Operations, that ships of the battle force, which spend most of their time in the San Diego-San Pedro area, in California, be ordered to operate also in the San Francisco-Seattle-Puget Sound area.

Despite criticism of his activity in bringing the Scouting Fleet to Montauk Point this week, the Illinois Republican has said he plans to suggest the Navy Department include Montauk in the fleet's itinerary next summer and in succeeding summers.

"I believe in an operating Navy," he said. "I think the ships should do more cruising and more firing and should go about from port to port, instead of staying so long at Newport, R. I. I believe the same thing is true of the ships on the Pacific Coast; and in December, when Congress convenes, I intend to make a suggestion to Admiral Pratt."

Man Freed in Murder Charge Sues Policemen

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Moss E. Garrison, recently acquitted on a charge of murdering Hand Bradshaw, his sweetheart, fled suit today for $50,000 damages from former Police Chiefs Percy J. Benbough and Arthur Hill, Acting Chief James Patrick, half a dozen police officers and two bonding companies.

Bradshaw bases his suit on alleged "third-degree" methods employed by the police during the time he was an inmate of the city jail.

Hoover in Tribute To Home Builders

Woods Reads Message at Meeting of Building and Loan Body.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—President Hoover today invited the United States Building and Loan League, holding its thirty-ninth annual convention here, to participate in the conference on home building and ownership in Washington this fall and paid tribute to pioneers of the home ownership movement.

The President's invitation and tribute were contained in a letter to R. H. Myer, of Los Angeles, president of the league, which was read by W. O. Woods, treasurer of the United States.

"The men who have shaped the building and loan plan have been pioneers in molding a most important economic characteristic of new world civilization," Mr. Hoover said. "The savings accumulated by some twelve millions of investors in membership in building and loan associations in this country have acted as a stabilizing force and have illustrated the self-reliance of our citizenry."

4 PERISH IN GARAGE AS FLAMES TRAP 20

Fire Follows Explosion of Gasoline Poured in Radiator by Mistake.

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Trapped in the showroom of a garage, where they were watching firemen fight a fire which started from an explosion in a rear room, four men were burned to death today and four others were injured.

The explosion occurred in the garage of Jack Glenius, on the eastern outskirts of Battle Creek, when an employee poured gasoline, believing it to be water, into a heated automobile radiator.

The dead are Floyd Carlyle, 30, and Albert Latta, 35, employees of the garage, and Robert Tanton, 20, and Grady Irwin, 23, onlookers.

Fenton, Carlyle and Irwin were killed instantly, and Latta died early tonight. The burns suffered by the four others were not serious. Nearly a score of persons rushed into the showroom of the garage after the explosion. As the firemen fought the flames in a rear room, a back draft caused the burning room to collapse and sweep the flames back into the showroom.

The spectators jammed the door of the garage and were unable to break through the heavy plate glass window. Other spectators in the street watched them fighting to escape as the flames swept over them. A fireman finally threw a brick through the window, releasing the imprisoned group.

Firemen searched the ruins for several hours after the fire had been extinguished, in the belief that others might have lost their lives. The police said tonight that all those at the scene had been accounted for.

Bombing Regrets Tendered to Italy

Castle Acts in Pittsburgh Incident Without Waiting for Report.

(Associated Press.)
Without awaiting a formal report on the bombing of the Italian vice consulate at Pittsburgh, Acting Secretary Castle of the State Department yesterday expressed his "regrets" over the incident to Ambassador De Martino of Italy.

After a conference with Mr. Castle, the ambassador said no formal apology would be asked and indicated the expression of the American Government's "regrets" would be satisfactory.

Prior to the meeting, Mr. Castle had asked Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania for a report on the incident.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—James M. Clarke, director of public safety, said today that two arrests would be made soon in the investigation of the bombing of the Italian Vice Consulate here yesterday. He said important clues were discovered and the arrests would follow within 24 or 48 hours.

Girl Babies to Bring Premium in Kashmir

Brinagar, India, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Owing to the alarming decrease in the number of female children in the state, the Maharaja of Kashmir today offered an acre of land to every father of a new-born baby girl.

He also had pamphlets and posters circulated through the village warning the populace against the evils of infanticide. In years past northern Indian races have made it a practice to destroy female offspring at birth because they potentially were less valuable as workers than male children.

2,500 in Fall River Plant Face Lay-Off

Fall River, Mass., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—The 2,500 employees of the cotton division of the American Printing Co. were notified today the plant would be closed for an indefinite period, effective next Monday.

Nathan Durfee, vice president, said he hoped the shutdown would be shorter than that of last year, which closed the plant for several months. The mill gives employment to 3,500 workers.

Koppers Firms Cut Wages, Is Report

Subsidiaries of Mellon Interests Reduce Pay, Press Says.

New York, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—The New York World Telegram today says it has learned that Koppers Co. subsidiaries, controlled by the Mellon interests, of Pittsburgh, with which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is identified, have cut wages.

"An official of one of the large chain of Mellon-owned Koppers companies along the Eastern seaboard, the Koppers Seaboard Coke Co. of Brooklyn, admitted this morning there had been a 10 per cent cut in his company, adding 'that's the cut that is making the rounds,'" says the World Telegram.

"From only one other Mellon subsidiary questioned came a denial of the cut. And officials of this company, the Koppers Seaboard Coke Co. of Kearney, N. J., admitted piece work pay had been reduced 10 per cent, although maintaining that hourly wages had not been changed for two years."

27 Killed by Explosion Of 10 Tons of Powder

Hong Kong, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—A terrific explosion of ten tons of gunpowder stored underground killed 27 persons, injured many others and destroyed much property at Macao, Portuguese colony, near here today. The blast was ascribed to spontaneous combustion, although earlier reports intimated it might have been an act of sabotage by discontented Portuguese troops.

The powder was stored at Flora Fort, in a well-to-do residential district. Many houses were wrecked. The dead included eight Portuguese and nineteen Chinese.

Doctor, Shot by Woman Who Killed Self, Dying

New York, Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Dr. Milton Thomashevsky, Brooklyn surgeon, shot through the left lung last night by his assistant, Miss Agnes Birdseye, who then killed herself, was reported near death in a hospital tonight. Miss Birdseye shot her employer, police said, after she heard he was planning to marry some one else. She had been in love with him seven years, police said.

Amnesty Granted Soviet Prisoners

Russian Rulers to Free 700 Political Offenders; Experts Are Needed.

Moscow, Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Amnesty was granted tonight to 700 political prisoners in Soviet labor camps and in Moscow jails. The order, issued by the central executive committee of the Russian Federation of Soviet Socialist Republics, was believed to be the first step in a general review of convicted cases in the light of recent declarations of Joseph V. Stalin.

It was believed that many other prisoners would be freed within a short time. The order also shortened the terms of 108 others confined to prison labor camps.

Since Stalin's recent declaration demanding encouragement of the former experts of czarist Russia, various prisoners have been released, and some of them have been given rewards for good work during confinement.

Of course they're friendly to your throat — they're FRESH!

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the throat.

- (1) Harsh tobaccos.
- (2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobaccos because of inefficient cleaning methods.
- (3) A parched dry condition of the tobacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Camels in the new Humidor Pack are fine cigarettes kept fine, free of every one of these drawbacks to real smoking pleasure! They are blended of the choicest tobaccos — fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos — the choicest that money and experience can buy.

They are kept free from the stinging of peppery dust by a special vacuum-cleaning process.

They are perfectly conditioned, factory-fresh wherever you buy them, thanks to the new Humidor Pack.

This scientific germ-safe wrapping — not plain ordinary Cellophane but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much — seals in all the natural freshness and aroma — seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

As a favor to your throat try factory-fresh Camels for just one day, then quit them — if you can.

3 MEN BEING HUNTED IN MUTILATION CASE

Hagerstown Resident, Taken to Hospital, Names His Alleged Attackers.

Special to The Washington Post.
Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 13.—Authorities today are searching for three men, named by Charles I. Watson, 41, as his mutilators, and will question
Mrs. Watson to learn what she knows of the reported attack.

Watson is in the Washington County Hospital here in a serious condition, having been stabbed in the groin by one of three men, the other two of whom held him while the operation was performed.

It is the third attack made upon Watson, whose previous stories of attacks the police were reluctant to believe. However, last night's attack was witnessed by neighbors, who saw his assailants flee after stabbing Watson.

Following the first mutilation June 5, which operation was performed after Watson had been grabbed from behind and dragged, Watson spent many weeks in the hospital. When he was released about a month ago, he was attacked again, but escaped and told police today he was repeatedly threatened by the three men he named.

Last night, he saw three forms proving about the rear of his home and got his rifle and fired into the air to frighten them. The three men closed in upon him and one stabbed him with a knife as the other two held him. He named his wife as one of those present while the mutilation was in progress.

His outburst brought neighbors to his rescue and his assailants fled.
Mrs. Watson was quizzed last night by the police, then released and was being sought again this afternoon for further questioning.

Baltimorean Found Shot Dead in Summer Camp

South Hadley, Mass., Aug. 13 (A.P.).
Charles Mason, 31 years old, said to have been a World War veteran and to have come here from Baltimore, was found dead today in a camp where he had been living this summer. He had been shot in the mouth.
After an investigation the police instructed the medical examiners to make no statement as to the cause of death.

Mason had been seen at the camp for ten days. His mother also was here with him. She is said to have cautioned others at the camp against discussing the case publicly.

Honduran Flier Landed Ship In Sea for Test, He Asserts

Capt. Garay, Saved, Tells of His Experiment to Try Out Theory.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 13 (A.P.).—A story of deliberately descending into a choppy sea whipped by a 60-mile wind was related here today by Capt.
Lisandro Garay, of the Honduran air corps, after he was brought safely into port by the American-Brazil Line steamer Biboco.

Garay left New York last Sunday afternoon on an attempted nonstop flight to Honduras. Head winds delayed him and he landed his plane on the sea 16 miles off Cape Lookout, N. C. he said, to test a theory that a plane would float long enough to keep its occupant alive.

The flier said he kept his bearings after leaving New York but after passing Wilmington, N. C., he ran into head winds and realized he could not reach his goal.

The wind direction was such that he could have reached land, but about 12:30 a. m. Monday he decided to land in the ocean. He said he had experimented in bringing a land plane down on water and little damage was done to the ship.

"After landing," he said, "I found
I could not get the door open and I had to break a window in the plane.

The wind was blow- miles an hour and as I broke the window fragments of glass were blown into the cabin cutting my face and hands.

"Blood from the gashes was sprayed over the tail of the plane 20 feet away by the wind."

Capt. Garay said he released the gasoline from the tanks and they acted as buoys while he stood on the tail of the ship for 35 hours awaiting rescue.

(Associated Press.)

Honduran Legation officials said last night Capt. Lisandro Garay's attempted nonstop flight to Tegucigalpa had not removed the probability of a court-martial for him upon his arrival home.

They recalled that the court-martial had been ordered several months ago when Garay failed to return to Honduras to help quell a revolution.
His flight, which ended disastrously off the North Carolina coast, they said, had not changed the situation.

If convicted he would face loss of his rank as a captain in the Honduran army, a prison term, or both.

McDONALD AND FOES IN BUDGET COUNCIL

Opposition Leaders Are Told of Premier's Progress in Financial Crisis.

London, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—Prime Minister MacDonald today informed the leaders of the opposition parties of the seriousness of Great Britain's budget crisis.

After a session of the "Big Five" members of the cabinet, at which ways of meeting the threatened deficit of £120,000,000 (about $600,000,- 000) were discussed, the prime minister conferred with Stanley Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain, Conservative leaders, and later with Sir
Herbert Samuel, acting chief of the Liberal party during the illness of David Lloyd George.

It was understood the prime minister informed his colleagues of the details of the situation and assured them he would keep them abreast of developments.

Cabinet Session Called.

Although the government intends to keep the Conservatives and Liberals fully cognizant of its plans for meeting the emergency, it was understood Mr. MacDonald and his colleagues will take full responsibility for whatever proposals may be put forward.

The cabinet economy committee—
the "Big Five"—adjourned today until Monday, after calling a general cabinet meeting for Wednesday.
While no communique was issued after the committee had adjourned, it was reported on reliable authority that two decisions had been reached:
next year's budget must be balanced, and the principle to be applied is equal sacrifice and effort by every section of the community.

These decisions were said to have been unanimously concurred in by Mr. MacDonald, Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, Arthur
Henderson, foreign secretary, J. R.
Thomas, dominions secretary, and William Graham, secretary of the board of trade.

Plan Further Discussions.
Methods to cope with the situation will be discussed again Monday and Tuesday so that definite proposals may be laid before the cabinet Wednesday.

The prime minister was reported to be much against a special session of Parliament, but if the proposals submitted to the cabinet next week are found to be such as involve legislation it is felt that the government will bow to the necessity of summoning Parliament.

Mr. MacDonald was described as being determined that no time be lost in dealing with the situation.
The opinion was widely expressed in financial and political circles that the difficulties were complicated by psychological factors and that immediate action was necessary.

Mrs. Hoover Will Christen Two Vessels

Notable Company to Attend Twin Launching at Newport News.

Facing another busy week-end, Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by Surgeon General and Mrs. Hugh S. Cumming, the President's naval aid, Capt. Charles Russell Train, and her secretary, Miss Mildred Hall, will leave Washington by boat tonight for Old Point Comfort, Va., to be sponsor for the launching of two vessels, the Talman and the Segovia. Only last week the First Lady journeyed to Akron to christen the giant dirigible, Akron, and after spending a day in Ohio, hastened to the Capital Sunday morning to join the President at the Rapidan Camp. Loath to miss her weekly visit to the presidential retreat, she will combine two trips on this occasion, leaving Old Point Comfort tomorrow afternoon for Rapidan.

Mrs. Hoover and her party will arrive for breakfast tomorrow morning at the New Chamberlin Hotel, and after attending the twin launching of the steamers at Newport News, Mrs. Hoover will be the guest of honor at a luncheon and reception at the hotel to be given by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. Contrary to reports concerning the chartering of a special steamer for Mrs. Hoover's trip down the Potomac, she will be a guest on the regular passenger boat for Norfolk, and although there will be no private dining room set for her aboard the ship, it is probable that she will dine with the members of her party in their suite.

A large group of notables will attend the luncheon for Mrs. Hoover tomorrow, including the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Ernest Lee Jahncke; the Minister of Panama and Senor Harnold Arias, the Minister of Nicaragua, Dr. Juan B. Sacasa; the new Minister of Honduras, Dr. Celso Davila; Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, the Assistant to the Postmaster General, Mr. W. Irving Glover; Representative William R. SCHOOL FROCK.

There is much enthusiasm now for approaching school days. And new frocks are ever dear to the heart of every little girl.

This one is so cute with its simulated bolero. The attractively flared skirt doubles its smartness.

It's so effective in navy blue wool ballis with tiny red dots.

Style No. 997 is designed for girls of 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/4 yards of 35-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Yacht blue linen with white linen collar, novelty woolsens in brown in tiny checked pattern and tweed-like buttons are lovely for classroom.

Price of pattern, 15 cents. Address Fashion Department, The Washington Post, Fifth Avenue and Twenty-ninth Street, New York City.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

EVERGREENS REQUIRE FOOD.
THIS applies to the broad-leaved evergreens as well as to coniferous evergreens. To the latter class belong the arbutus, pines, junipers, spruces and yews.

I think all authorities agree that the best results may be attained with coniferous evergreens by an application of a top dressing in the fall of well-rotted manure, for by the following spring the manure will be in a desiccated condition and can be easily worked into the soil.

If you use fertilizer such as bone-meal or sheep manure, you should also apply it as a top dressing after you have planted the evergreens. Then subsequent applications must be made twice during the summer.

In the case of the rhododendron or mountain laurel or any other member of the ericaceae family which are spoken of as broad-leaved evergreens, you must never use any fertilizer containing lime, as these plants are best in an acid soil. Much of the success in growing these plants depends on soil conditions.

As a winter mulch, cover the roots of all broad-leaved evergreens with several inches of fallen leaves. Always avoid the use of wood ashes or manure, even if in well-rotted form. Any fertilizer containing a large percentage of nitrogen in organic and acid form, and no lime, is good to use on this class of plants.

If you think your soil contains even a remote trace of lime, better correct the condition if you aim to succeed with rhododendrons or laurel. In order to do this, use a combination of humus, top soil and aluminum sulphate. The latter chemical may be purchased from any seedhouse or nursery. Use about fourteen ounces of this material to each square yard of surface.

Never allow broad-leaved evergreens to go into the winter dry at the roots. Most varieties of this class are shade lovers and do best in a rich, loose soil, where there has been an accumulation of leaves that have undergone a slow process of decomposition and produced an acid soil.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"LEO."
IF August 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:10 a. m. to noon, from 4 p. m. to 5:15 p. m., and from 8 p. m. to 10:05 p. m. The danger hours are from 12:45 p. m. to 3:10 p. m., and from 6:20 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Nothing of importance can be expected to happen on August 14, according to astrological predictions. But minor helpful influences will make life easier. Tact will be needed in order to avoid family differences. Uncertainty and indecision will prevail. Stick to your guns.

Children born on this August 14 will possess indomitable spirits and, neither in study nor in play, will they admit defeat. Intellectual, resourceful, and fearless, this courage will prove to be of inestimable value to them in adulthood, and marked success awaits them.

You, if born on August 14, have always had a strong desire for power, and keen love of the traditional. You possess many of the qualities of leadership, but lack a proper sense of justice. Once, too, you convince yourself of the rightness of a cause, it becomes an obsession, and you pursue it, willy-nilly, to the bitter end. You are quite self-centered, and rather ignore the rights of others.

You are imperious, and can not tolerate criticism or reprimand. The signs say that you, in the course of your life, and as a result of your "bossy" ways, will have many bitter pills to swallow. This will be all to the good, as a more humble spirit will evolve from discipline.

You are rather Bohemian in your tastes, and have a liking for all the good things in life. You are fond of society—more fond of it than it is of you. You have great determination to uphold, more than once, amount of intelligence, but little sense of proportion. Until you are able to see yourself as others see you, life will not have many rewards in store for you.

The opposite sex possesses great attractions for you, and this is one of your weaknesses, as infatuation is destined to upset, more than once, in your life, plans carefully made and projects nearly completed.

Successful people born August 14: Paul Baruch, naturalist; Frederick Thompson Seton, artist and author; George K. Nash, lawyer and politician.

Benjamin, journalist and poet; Frederick Saunders, librarian and author; John F. Hurst, M. E. bishop.

ALEXANDRIA'S BAND TO ENTER CONTEST

Parade at Winchester to Be Feature of State Firemen's Convention.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU, 907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va. Phone Alexandria 523.

Thirty members of the Citizens Band of Alexandria, dressed in their new uniforms for the time, will leave this morning for Winchester to participate in the parade at the forty-fifth annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Association, which will be held at Winchester this afternoon. There will be a band contest following the parade, and Alexandrians expect the Citizens Band will take a high place.

James M. Duncan, Jr., chief of the Alexandria Fire Department, was elected vice president of the association, which will hold its 1932 convention in Alexandria. Although Chief Duncan lost his plea to retain right for the local firemen to compete for prizes in the parade as a department rather than as separate companies, he did succeed in having resolutions passed by the convention permitting departments this option in the future. Alexandria will have 175 uniformed men in the parade, although not competing for prizes. The Alexandria Ladies' Auxiliary will have 35 members, and the delegation will be led by the Citizens Band.

The new uniforms of the Citizens Band are navy blue with light-blue trimmings.

The Alexandria playgrounds will hold a swimming meet and pageant today in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the National Recreation Association. Julia Ella Weisner, of the Washington street ground, has been chosen pageant queen, and will have as her attendants Misses Genevieve Gorman, of the high school grounds; Elizabeth Foss, George Mason High; Ellen Rammel, Friends grounds, and Irma Posey, from Windmill Hill. Little Barbara Smith, as Mother Goose, will act as mistress of ceremonies.

An automobile parade was held yesterday afternoon, in which the queen of the pageant and her attendants rode.

Alexandria police have been unable to locate the driver of a truck which struck and seriously injured Paul Bennett, 15 years old, of New Orleans, while Bennett was walking along the Richmond-Washington highway near Potomac Yards yesterday morning. The truck failed to stop at the intersection of the highway and the Washington by a passing motorist, who informed Washington police that Bennett's three companions stated the vehicle which struck him was an oil truck.

Bennett is understood to have suffered internal injuries and to be in a serious condition.

James R. Mansfield, collector of the Port of Alexandria, was the chief speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Alexandria Kiwanis Club yesterday in the George Mason Hotel, and told of the workings of his office.

Norman Williamson, assistant postmaster of Alexandria, was in charge of the program, and Roger C. Sullivan presided. Plans for a picnic at Braddock Heights, Md., were discussed.

Takoma Officials Defend School Act

Senior Structure Will Be Put Up Next Year, Is Promise Given.

Mayor Ben G. Davis and J. Bond Smith, town counsel of Takoma Park, Md., yesterday issued a statement in which they defended their action in agreeing to location of a senior high school in the Silver Spring area on promise of county leaders that a senior high school will be built for Takoma Park next year.

They point out that the town of Takoma Park, because of its large population, could not be served adequately by a high school if located at a point favorable to Kensington and Silver Spring and that the town would concentrate on obtaining for itself a school commensurate with its population. They say this is guaranteed by a resolution presented by Maj. E. Brooke Lee, head of the administration, and adopted by the general committee on school matters.

Site for the Takoma senior high school will be secured this year, they say, and construction work will be started next year.

Washington Man Held On Drunk-Driving Count

Frederick Sullivan, of 410 H street northwest, was arrested late Wednesday night by Assistant Town Sergeant W. Smith, of Falls Church, on charge of driving while drunk. Sullivan, in an attempt to negotiate a curve on the Lee highway in front of the Falls Church Episcopal Church, it the ditch and plowed into a culvert, wrecking his car. While trying to get his car out of the ditch the police arrived.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace John T. Moring at Falls Church and ordered held for a hearing before the Falls Church mayor's court on August 22.

Two in Fairfax County Held on Liquor Charges

Clarence Wells and Dennis Durham, both of Alexandria, Va., were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Henry Marley early yesterday near Bailey Cross Roads for violation of the Virginia prohibition law. The men were taken before Justice of the Peace John B. Dowden at Bailey Cross Roads. Durham was charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor of Wells with being drunk. They both were charged with transportation. The men were ordered held for the trial of the grand jury. Bond was in each case at $1,000.

Farmers of Fairfax Will Visit Test Farm

A large number of the Fairfax County, Va., dairymen, poultrymen and sheep owners are planning to visit the United States Experimental Farm at Beltsville, Md., today. They are arranged by Fairfax County Agricultural Agent H. B. Derr, will leave for the county courthouse this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The tour of inspection of the farm will be led by R. G. Henley, and State extension dairymen of the Polytechnic Institute at Chesburg, Va. Several experiments will be conducted for the Fairfax County.

Judge A. C. Ritchie Resigns From Fairfax Court Post

Quits Juvenile and Domestic Relations Bench; Two Welfare Board Members Also Surrender Appointments in Dispute With Supervisors.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST, P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va. Phone Fairfax 188.

Judge Abner C. Ritchie, of the Fairfax County Court of Juvenile and Domestic Relations, has tendered his resignation to Judge Walter T. McCarthy, of the Fairfax County Circuit Court, effective as soon as his successor can be appointed. Judge Ritchie has served as juvenile judge since 1922, when the office was created by the State Legislature.

Judge McCarthy has also received the resignations of Robert R. Buckley, of Fairfax, chairman of the County Welfare Board, and Miss Mattie Gundry, of Falls Church, a welfare board member. It is rumored that the resignation of another member, Mrs. J. Randall Calton, of Belle Haven, has been submitted.

The resignations are an aftermath of the action of the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, last week, in deciding to appoint a local superintendent of public welfare, independent of the Virginia Public Welfare Board.

State Attacks Qualifications.

The State board had notified the Fairfax supervisors, in a rather pointed letter, there was no one in the county who met the State requirements for the position. The supervisors retorted by stating that the local work and positions should be free from the domination of the State departments, and appointed Mrs. Eleanor W. Allen to the position created by the resignation of Mrs. Louise Mangum.

The Fairfax County Board of Public Welfare was appointed under the State law by Judge Howard W. Smith, of the circuit court, to function under that law, which requires the appointment of a welfare worker by the local board from a list of eligibles furnished by the State Welfare Board. Judge Ritchie, under the law, was automatically a member of the local welfare board.

Judge Ritchie stated yesterday that he was not acting in resigning by any personal feeling against Mrs. Allen and the appointment by the supervisors, but he was not in sympathy with their action of taking the county work from under the supervision of the State board and in appointing Ritchie as juvenile judge since the board does not consider qualified by training and experience to handle welfare work.

Judge Points to Work.

He declared that he had devoted much effort to building the local welfare work to its present standard, and that he was hoping that by getting an appointee recommended by the State board the work could be brought to a still higher level and efficiency.

The members of the County Welfare Board who have submitted their resignations have stated that they feel such appointments in the county should be free from politics, and if the new superintendent is to be appointed by and held accountable to the supervisors, there was no need of their serving as an additional board. The members of the County Welfare Board serve without compensation and are appointed from the six magisterial districts of the county.

Judge McCarthy stated last night that he had received the resignations but had taken no action on them. It is believed by many in Fairfax that no action will be taken on the appointment of Judge Ritchie's successor until the September term of the county circuit court. Among those prominently mentioned as his successor is Paul E. Brown, of Fairfax, who has been a member of the local board for several years and is at present a chancery commissioner of the court.

COURT REMOVES BAR LYON PARK SECTION TO KENSINGTON SPAN TO ASK SEWER LINE

Temporary Injunction Has Held Up Overpass Job Nearly Two Years.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Judge Robert B. Peter yesterday dissolved a temporary injunction against construction of the Kensington overpass bridge across the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks and dismissed the petition filed by a group of Kensington residents for a permanent injunction. The decision, appealed to a higher court, made possible early commencement of work to eliminate the grade crossing.

Judge Peter held that the State Roads Commission had acted properly in its decision on location of the crossing at Lincoln avenue, after consultation with its engineers. The judge pointed out location of a bridge is largely an engineering question and that the commission had presented engineering evidence to show the location was proper from an engineering standpoint, while the petitioners had failed to introduce engineering testimony.

Suit for injunction against the overpass crossing was instituted in September, 1929, by a group of citizens of Kensington. It was held that the commission had acted arbitrarily in locating the crossing and had not complied with statutes governing selection of locations for such projects. Judge Peter issued a temporary injunction. Later counsel for the State, Capt. Joseph C. Cissel, of Silver Spring and Rockville, filed a cross-bill declaring requirements of the law had been met and asking that the injunction be dissolved.

Plaintiffs were represented by the law firm of Peter, Simpson & Oxley and Attorneys Harold C. Smithland, of Rockville, and Albion Wood, of Frederick.

Rockville Streets To Be Improved

Montgomery Board Buys Property for School in Silver Spring.

Montgomery County Commissioners yesterday approved plans for improvement of the main street in Rockville. The plan calls for widening the new courthouse, surrounding the new courthouse. They also approved recommendation of the county board of education that the new senior high school for the Silver Spring-Woodside section be located in Smith's Addition to Silver Spring on Montgomery avenue east of the National Guard Armory.

The land is owned by the North Washington Land Co., headed by E. Brooke Lee, county administration leader, and price is 8 cents per foot. Under plans submitted by County Engineer Harry B. Shaw the main street of Rockville, Montgomery avenue, in front of the courthouse, will be 90 feet wide. The other four streets to be improved are Commerce, Washington, Jefferson and Perry streets. The entire project is expected to be completed by fall.

Shooting at Dog Brings Charge Against Citizen

Harry E. Peagans, arraigned in Alexandria Police Court yesterday on a charge of shooting at a dog which he claimed was tearing up clothing in his back yard, was fined $25 and costs by Judge W. S. Snow for discharging firearms within the city limits. Attorney Robinson Moncreuf, representing Peagans, noted an appeal to the Corporation Court, whereupon Judge Snow fined Peagans $100 and costs for cruelty to animals and placed his appeal bond at $1,000.

Peagans was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Helen Stansbury, owner of the dog, by Policeman Sutherland.

Assault Charged to Local Man.

Clarence B. Jennings, of Washington, yesterday was held for action of the Montgomery County Grand Jury on charges of having criminally assaulted Julia Black, 16 years old, of Cherryville, N. C. Bopps was fined at $5,000 by Judge Charles W. Woodward, in Rockville Police Court, after a preliminary hearing.

Arlington County Group Will Petition to Replace Open Ditch of 1,100 Feet.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST, Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

According to Albert H. Cohen, of Lyon Park, who has interested himself in behalf of the citizens living in the vicinity of Taylor avenue and extending to Fort avenue, just below Clarendon avenue, he will at the meeting of the county board of supervisors at the courthouse tomorrow morning present a petition signed by the residents in that section asking that a sewer line be installed to replace the open ditch now existing for a distance of more than 1,100 feet.

This ditch, it is claimed, while running through an alley, extends over on private property and every effort will be made to have what is also claimed a most insanitary condition improved by the installation of a modern sewerage line.

While the county is being asked to install this sewer line it is understood by the citizens signing the petition that they will bear their share of the cost of the line.

The Arlington County Building Code commission, created by a recent act of the board of supervisors, will meet today at the courthouse, at which time a permanent chairman will be elected.

According to Robert H. Forman, temporary chairman, the commission, following the election, will proceed to draft the building code for Arlington County following that of the District of Columbia as far as it does not conflict with the Virginia laws. Where it does, the code of the City of Richmond will be followed.

Pursuant to previous announcements that a reduction in the present water rate might be possible, Supervisor B. M. Hedrick, of Arlington district, stated yesterday that an audit is now being made of the books of the water department, which audit will be presented to the board of supervisors at its meeting to be held August 31.

"I do not wish to hold out much hope for a reduction, since much money has been expended for extensions as a result of the drought of last year, but the board will do everything possible to bring about a reduction if it is found that the report of the auditor warrants it," he said.

Rockville Water Jobs To Be Awarded Monday

Contracts for expansion of Rockville water system will be awarded Monday night at a meeting of the council, Mayor J. Roger Spates announced yesterday. Bonds to finance the project will be delivered within a few days to the Baltimore company which purchased the $50,000 issue.

Eighteen proposals were submitted, three for constructing a steel water storage tank of 100,000 gallons capacity, for which the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., offered the low bid of $6,840; four for drilling an 8-inch well, for which G. M. Hagerman, of Vienna, Va., submitted the low bid of $4,500; and eleven for enlarging water mains and sewerage disposal plant, for which Boyd & Goforth, of Charlotte, N. C., submitted the low bid of $17,989.81.

Visiting Girl Is Held Prisoner by Elevator

Miss Margaret Moats, 17-year-old Hagerstown, Md. girl, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Emma J. Allen, at the Melrose Apartments, 1343 Clifton street northwest, was a prisoner for several minutes yesterday in the building's automatic elevator when it became stuck between the first and second floors.

The balky lift, was repaired before the Rescue Squad, summoned by an alarmed witness, responded.

TAXES IN ARLINGTON HIT BY COURT ORDER

Levies on Delinquent Realty Thrown Out by Ruling in $500,000 Suit.

For the second time in three years a demurrer against collection of delinquent real estate taxes was sustained in the Arlington County Circuit Court yesterday.

With this decision in the State's action to collect $500,000 of such back taxes the opinion by Judge Walter T. McCarthy makes it virtually impossible to collect delinquent taxes on real estate through suit, it was said.

Before closing the minutes of the present session, Judge McCarthy also sustained a demurrer filed by Counsel for seven members of the Organized Women Voters of Arlington County in a $60,000 damage suit brought against them by the Arlington Investment Corporation.

Local Suits Barred.

In line with Judge McCarthy's real estate tax decision, Judge Howard W. Smith, when he was on the bench, sustained a demurrer to suits against the same defendants, ruling that local governments are prevented by the Constitution from collecting taxes by suit.

Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth, when that suit failed, was authorized by the State Tax Commissioner to bring suit again in the name of the State, under section 403 of the tax code.

Attorneys Jesse, Phillips and Klinge filed demurrer claiming unconstitutionality of Gloth's suits on the grounds that an act of the last General Assembly assigned the delinquent taxes belonging to the State to the various jurisdictions in which the properties were located. It was claimed the State had no ownership in the taxes.

Double Recovery Feared.

In filing the demurrer, attorneys asserted they sought to avoid burdening taxpayers with unnecessary costs and fees. Should the State be permitted to recover the back taxes, they said, taxpayers would be subject to another suit for recovery by the county, with a possible double payment of the same tax.

Commonwealth's Attorney Gloth said yesterday the State tax commissioner will carry the case to the State Supreme Court of Appeals.

In the other demurrer case the Arlington Investment Corporation brought suit several months ago against the Organized Women Voters, claiming damages alleged to have resulted from recent unsuccessful impeachment proceedings against Supervisor B. M. Hedrick. Mr. Hedrick at the time of the proceedings was managing director of the investment corporation.

Plaintiff Notes Exceptions.

Burnett Miller was attorney for Mrs. Ruby G. Simpson, president of the Organized Women Voters, and the other members named in the suit, Mrs. Ada Davidson, Mrs. Alice W. Semmes, Mrs. Florence E. Cannon, Mrs. Bertha Kelly, Mrs. N. Rex Hunt and Mrs. Mary Williams.

In his demurrer Mr. Miller claimed there was no libel insofar as the Arlington Investment Corporation was concerned. Conceding all of the allegations to be true, he said the notice was insufficient in law to enable the plaintiff to obtain judgment against the defendant.

Edgar W. Humphrey, attorney for the plaintiff, said last night he will note exceptions to the order sustaining the demurrer. He said leave to amend the order was granted by the court.

Alexandria Marines Make Plans for Camp

The Alexandria Marine Reserve Unit, officially Company B, Twentieth Marines, under command of First Lieut. A. Clark Slaymaker and First Serg. Whitcomb Bayne, is making preparations to attend the annual encampment of the Sixth Marine Brigade, from Washington, Virginia and Maryland, which will be held at Virginia Beach from August 23 to September 8.

Relatives and friends of the troops will be given an opportunity to view the brigade review which will be held in honor of Gov. Pollard and Maj. Gen. Fuller, commander of the Marine Corps, on August 29, a special boat having been arranged by the Norfolk & Washington Steamboat Co.

ROBERT J. EARNSHAW PROMOTED BY BANK

Washington Savings Elects
Him Vice President; Board
Adds Montgomery.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.
Robert J. Earnshaw, assistant treasurer of Washington Savings Bank, was elected vice president, treasurer and a director of that institution yesterday at a meeting of its directors which accepted the resignation of John D. Leonard, as vice president and treasurer. Robert B. Montgomery, manager of the mortgage loan department of Acacia Mutual Life Association, was also elected to the board of directors. The foregoing announcements were made by Thomas E. Jarrell, president of the bank, following the meeting.

Mr. Earnshaw, the bank's new vice president and treasurer, was born in this city, September 18, 1886. He is a son of the late Richard J. Earnshaw, flour, grain and general merchandise broker, who was a member of the firm of Earnshaw, Leary, National and Anacostia Banks and at the time of his death was a member of the boards of the Bank of Commerce & Savings and the Central Trust Co.

Mr. Earnshaw's first job. Robert J. Earnshaw, after completing his education entered the employ of Central National Bank in 1904 as a runner. This bank later consolidated with the National Bank of Washington. After four years' service with the Central National, Mr. Earnshaw became employed by the Washington Loan & Trust Co. as a bookkeeper, and later entered the service of Commercial National Bank in the same capacity. Following naval service in the World War he became associated with the Washington Savings Bank as a bookkeeper in 1919, and was promoted to the office of assistant treasurer in 1922.

Mr. Montgomery, another addition to the board of directors, is the son of William Montgomery, president of Acacia Mutual Life Association for the past 38 years, and during whose affiliation with that association it has grown from a small local company with two rooms for headquarters to its present national stature, with a magnificent home office building here, branches in the leading cities of the Nation, $32,000,000 of insurance in force and assets of more than $40,000,000.

Robert B. Montgomery is a native Washingtonian, was graduated from Lafayette College in 1924 and is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, the Masonic bodies through the Shrine, Congressional Country Club and Washington Board of Trade.

Experience in Finance.

He has had considerable experience in financial affairs, beginning his business career with the Washington Savings Bank since 1917 and being its first president. He has always been actively interested in the affairs of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and has served on many of its important committees. Until this year, he had attended practically every convention of the association.

Mr. Leonard, who resigned because of ill health and at the advice of his physician, plans to take a year's complete rest from all banking activities and is passing the remaining part of his summer at his summer home in Frederick, Md.

He will be greatly missed in the financial district, having been connected with the Washington Savings Bank since 1917 and being its first president. He has always been actively interested in the affairs of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and has served on many of its important committees. Until this year, he had attended practically every convention of the association.

Mr. Leonard, who resigned because of ill health and at the advice of his physician, plans to take a year's complete rest from all banking activities and is passing the remaining part of his summer at his summer home in Frederick, Md.

Members of Committee. Membership of the athletic committee of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, has been announced by Aubrey O. Dooley, president of the chapter, as follows: Robert A. Sisson, Washington Savings Bank, chairman; John G. Christie, W. B. Hibbs & Co.; John R. Fitzpatrick, Second National Bank; August R. Terneak, Washington Savings Bank; Frank C. Cook, District National Bank; Kenneth Davis, Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Sisson, chairman of the committee, has been associated with Washington Chapter for some time and has a thorough knowledge of the athletic requirements of the local banking group. Mr. Sisson is a high school graduate and holds the standard certificate of the American Institute of Banking. He has served as chairman of the house and tennis committees and as a member of various other committees of Washington Chapter. He was a member of the board of governors in 1929-30, treasurer in 1930-31 and was re-elected to the board of governors in May of this year. He has attended annual conventions of the institute at Tulsa, Okla., Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The committee has planned a tentative program which contemplates a golf match between Washington and Baltimore chapters, the first half of which will be played here the latter part of August and the last half in Baltimore in September. A tennis tournament and a 36-hole golf tournament to be played by members of the chapter in September. A bowling tournament and basketball matches also will be played. The committee plans bowling matches with Baltimore and Richmond chapters, the first half to be bowled on local alleys and the other half on the home alleys of the other teams. The plans of the athletic committee are the most diversified and extensive of any offered to the local bankers.

England More Bribed. London, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—The number of convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales during 1930 showed an increase over the previous year for the first time since 1924. Home office statistics disclosed arrests numbered 53,080, as compared with 51,998 in 1929.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL.

ONE of the primary advantages of the sweeping change in operating policy instituted by the Fox company, as disclosed in this column yesterday, it seems to me, is the rehabilitation of the house manager as an active executive, instead of a mere figurehead, and the localizing of the conduct of the Fox houses in their respective communities, even to the purchasing of supplies and the employment of labor.

The move insofar as Washington is concerned will have the immediate effect of placing the Fox chain exactly the basis of the Crandall and Moore Theaters here when Harry Crandall and Tom Moore were active in the Washington Loan & Trust Co. as a bookkeeper, and later entered the service of Commercial National Bank in the same capacity. Following naval service in the World War he became associated with the Washington Savings Bank as a bookkeeper in 1919, and was promoted to the office of assistant treasurer in 1922.

Mr. Montgomery, another addition to the board of directors, is the son of William Montgomery, president of Acacia Mutual Life Association for the past 38 years, and during whose affiliation with that association it has grown from a small local company with two rooms for headquarters to its present national stature, with a magnificent home office building here, branches in the leading cities of the Nation, $32,000,000 of insurance in force and assets of more than $40,000,000.

Robert B. Montgomery is a native Washingtonian, was graduated from Lafayette College in 1924 and is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, the Masonic bodies through the Shrine, Congressional Country Club and Washington Board of Trade.

He has had considerable experience in financial affairs, beginning his business career with the Washington Savings Bank since 1917 and being its first president. He has always been actively interested in the affairs of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and has served on many of its important committees. Until this year, he had attended practically every convention of the association.

Experience in Finance.

He has had considerable experience in financial affairs, beginning his business career with the Washington Savings Bank since 1917 and being its first president. He has always been actively interested in the affairs of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and has served on many of its important committees. Until this year, he had attended practically every convention of the association.

Mr. Leonard, who resigned because of ill health and at the advice of his physician, plans to take a year's complete rest from all banking activities and is passing the remaining part of his summer at his summer home in Frederick, Md.

He will be greatly missed in the financial district, having been connected with the Washington Savings Bank since 1917 and being its first president. He has always been actively interested in the affairs of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and has served on many of its important committees. Until this year, he had attended practically every convention of the association.

Members of Committee. Membership of the athletic committee of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, has been announced by Aubrey O. Dooley, president of the chapter, as follows: Robert A. Sisson, Washington Savings Bank, chairman; John G. Christie, W. B. Hibbs & Co.; John R. Fitzpatrick, Second National Bank; August R. Terneak, Washington Savings Bank; Frank C. Cook, District National Bank; Kenneth Davis, Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Sisson, chairman of the committee, has been associated with Washington Chapter for some time and has a thorough knowledge of the athletic requirements of the local banking group. Mr. Sisson is a high school graduate and holds the standard certificate of the American Institute of Banking. He has served as chairman of the house and tennis committees and as a member of various other committees of Washington Chapter. He was a member of the board of governors in 1929-30, treasurer in 1930-31 and was re-elected to the board of governors in May of this year. He has attended annual conventions of the institute at Tulsa, Okla., Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The committee has planned a tentative program which contemplates a golf match between Washington and Baltimore chapters, the first half of which will be played here the latter part of August and the last half in Baltimore in September. A tennis tournament and a 36-hole golf tournament to be played by members of the chapter in September. A bowling tournament and basketball matches also will be played. The committee plans bowling matches with Baltimore and Richmond chapters, the first half to be bowled on local alleys and the other half on the home alleys of the other teams. The plans of the athletic committee are the most diversified and extensive of any offered to the local bankers.

England More Bribed. London, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—The number of convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales during 1930 showed an increase over the previous year for the first time since 1924. Home office statistics disclosed arrests numbered 53,080, as compared with 51,998 in 1929.

Washington, mecca of tourists the year around, next year promises to break all records for numbers of visitors to the theater. If he goes there for a large salary to write screen plays he should stick to it and show his best work. The screen will never be better if authors continue to use it as merely a money-making side line. Not only are the producers to blame for any ill condition that is the fault of the screen, but the authors are as well. They are not always as conscientious as their critical remarks leave one to expect them to be.

And are the Woodhouse, Liveright and Pertwee cars on fire?

Mr. Lonsdale, in case you don't remember, is the author of "The High Road," "On Approval" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne." All produced in New York by Charles Dillingham, "Spring Cleaning," "Madam Pompadour," "Aren't We All?" "Street Singer," "Maid of the Mountains," "Waiting at the Church," "High Jinks," "The Beauty," "The Princess," "Lady Mary," "The Best People," "The King of Patagonia," and "The Early Worm."

His most recent stage play was "Casar's Sometimes Sing." It is the present plan for him to prepare three original screen plays for M-G-M, the first probably for Norma Shearer, who scored so decisively in "Mrs. Cheyne." The second for Robert Montgomery, the third still unassigned.

And Ina Claire, Washington's native star, it seems, is to play one of the roles in "The Greeks Had a Word for It," after all.

The other blonde beauties will be Joan Blondell and Carole Lombard, the new Mrs. William Powell. Production will be by bestia soon, with Samuel Goldwyn, the sponsor.

Miss Claire's sensational success in the film version of "Rebound," in which her lines, it is reported, never fail to get a laugh, is responsible for Mr. Goldwyn's change of mind. It was announced a few days ago that the former Miss Fagan would not be seen in the comedy role, but the returns from "Rebound" have changed all that.

Speaking of casts, Leonard Bergman announces that casting is complete for his production of Myron C. Fagan's new play, "Peter Files High," in which Glenn Hunter will inaugurate the season at the National Theater in this city on Monday, September 14.

In addition to Mr. Hunter, the company includes Mary Lane, Dulcie Cooper, Adrian Donnelly, Eileen Wilson, Kathryn Givney, Burke Clarke, William T. Hays and Forrest Orr.

Following engagements in Washington and Philadelphia, "Peter Files High" will be presented in the Gaiety Theater in New York.

By the way, how many names in that cast do you recognize as old friends?

At that, Mr. Bergman has nothing on Harry Crull, who has completed the cast for his All-Washington Revue to be presented at the Fox the week of August 21. There are a lot of familiar names in that, too, as you shall see when we find room to publish it—probably tomorrow.

In the meantime, how about matching Rudy Dusek to wrestle Jim London?

Why not swim, too?
A clear skin and a strong body
add a touch of loveliness to any man or woman

Regardless of whether you swim or not it is human for one to want to be more attractive. Often one can gain a clear skin and a strong body—the kind that makes you feel like your natural self again—simply by adding New Strength to the blood.

When your vitality is low and you feel weak, don't care to eat, have lost weight, your skin is pale, or you are troubled with pimples or boils, you may be sure that your blood is in need of New Strength.

Rich, red blood for New Strength

Rich, red blood plays a dominant role in maintaining health. It builds and sustains... removes impurities from the tissues... gives strength to the blood—this New Strength naturally makes for better health and happiness.

S.S.S. is sold in two sizes. The larger size contains 20 oz. and represents a price saving.

CHEERS FOR HAWTHORNE IN LONG

Fiddler Loses After Close Sprint

Leaders Noses Apart Throughout Six-Furlong Battle.

Coe Fillies Run One-Two in Feature at Saratoga.

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Chicago, Ill., Aug. 13.—Continued clear weather has returned the racing strip to a fast condition at Hawthorne and the entries for the various events which include the Oakwood Purse feature attracted large fields to contest the highly diversified program tomorrow. The headline 1-mile gallop, which includes the Oakwood Purse, feature attracted a field of six sterling outers to match strides for the $1,800 purse.

LADY DEAN, a game distance runner from the Dixiana Stable, suffered interference in her recent effort, but previously turned in a brilliant victory. Eliminating her last, the Chino, filly figures to outfoot the five rivals.

FIRST RACE—In the opener, a limit field of maiden juvenile fillies will be dispatched over the 5 1/2-furlong route. CHATTER QUEEN, a clever performer from the Northway Stable, finished second to Al Rivers in her recent effort, and figures to improve enough to graduate from this field. MAYETTA has come to hand and is the one to fear. ZINA appears to be the others for the minor award.

SECOND RACE—Fourteen evenly matched platers will contest the 1 1/4 miles of the second, which is for the 3-year-olds. DICKY BOY did not relish the heavy going of the first race.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,200. Claiming. For 2-year-olds. Start early. Place, $100. Boots and Saddle's Hawthorne Selections—By J. B. SNODGRASS other day but on a fast track, should score over this band of nonwinners. THIRD RACE—FRENCH LASS, a speedster from the H. C. Hatch string, was impeded in her recent start, but previously scored over a clever field of sprinters. Under the conditioned the Hatch mare should carry her speed over the 5 1/2-furlong distance of the third. Chief opposition should come from SUPREMACY, a reformed winner. LADY CAPULET is selected for the show.

FOURTH RACE—Juveniles will be sent 6 furlongs in the fourth, with UNCOMBES as the logical choice. This youngster showed logical effort against better company and should romp to an easy victory.

SIXTH RACE—The sixth event received a limit list of 3-year-old platers which will contest the purse at the mile and the sixteenth route.

SEVENTH RACE—VERMILION has shown the most consistent form of the eighteen oldsters named to start in the mile and an eighth of the concluding number. The H. M. Wolf starter came from behind in his last effort, but appears to be a horse to watch in fast time. OR that sterling performer, he is given the call. WIRT G. BOWMAN will offer stern opposition under the conditions, with PAUL H. PALM favored to gain a share of the purse.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-quarter miles. Purse, $1,200. Claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start early. Place, $100. CONTROL MOSQUITOES AND AVOID MALARIA

DIFFERENT methods of malaria control are in use, each having its advantages and its limitations. Perhaps the most economical is the screening of houses. This procedure is now well standardized. When local health departments organize to have screening done on an efficient and cheap basis, the cost of protecting the chimney and all the windows and doors in a cabin should not exceed $7. A larger house can be made safe and comfortable for $10. The cost of maintenance of screens is about $1 a year. Two dollars a year per cabin, placed in a screen replacement fund, should more than pay the cost of renewal.

Screens that are improperly made, or improperly put in, may convert a house into a mosquito trap, and such a trap may contribute to infection of an entire family by one of its members.

Prevention of malaria by keeping a dairy and allowing mosquitoes free access to the stable cows, may be very well suited to certain localities. This has proved a most successful method in parts of Italy.

Minor drainage in the vicinity of homes and cabins is not expensive. This method has been known to convert a household of "chillies" into a healthy, working family.

Top minnows are valuable in controlling mosquito breeding where there is not much vegetation in the waters, and where conditions are good for the kind of fish life.

Dusting with a mixture of one-part Paris green and 99 parts road dust or sawdust is a very efficient method in certain districts. If the mosquito breeding grounds of a county do not exceed one acre for each square mile, Paris green can be adequately used in a medium-sized county for about $3,000 for the season. In a county where conditions are very bad the expense to the county may run as high as $8,000. If his county will not help him, any farmer can do his own dusting at an expense much less than $100 a year. The money for doctors' bills and chill tonics on a large place will run far beyond that.

SYMPTOMS OF ASTHMA.

R. M. S. writes: What are the symptoms of asthma? Do you think any certain food could cause it? It seems that the patient has difficulty in breathing. This starts in the spring, although she doesn't cough at any time. If it is caused by a certain food, and that is eliminated by the diet, do you think that patient can be cured?

REPLY: The well-known symptom for this well-known disorder is the one you mention. Cough is present in some kinds of asthma, but it is not an essential symptom in any kind except bronchial.

There being many kinds of asthma, there are also many causes. Those kinds that result from sensitization to certain foods are cured or prevented by avoiding the foods that cause them.

When a person finds out that he has asthma, he should next find out what kind he has, then the cause or causes and, after that, the remedies. He is ready then to act.

CAUSE OF WARTS.

M. P. writes:

1. What is the cause of warts?
2. What is the treatment?
3. Is burning warts all right?
4. How may I prevent two young warts from growing? What about spirits of camphor?
5. Is it possible to get poison ivy in winter?
6. Is there anything to prevent poison ivy? A doctor's helper told me to eat a few leaves in the spring to prevent poison ivy.
7. Do you think it would be safe to eat the ivy?

REPLY:

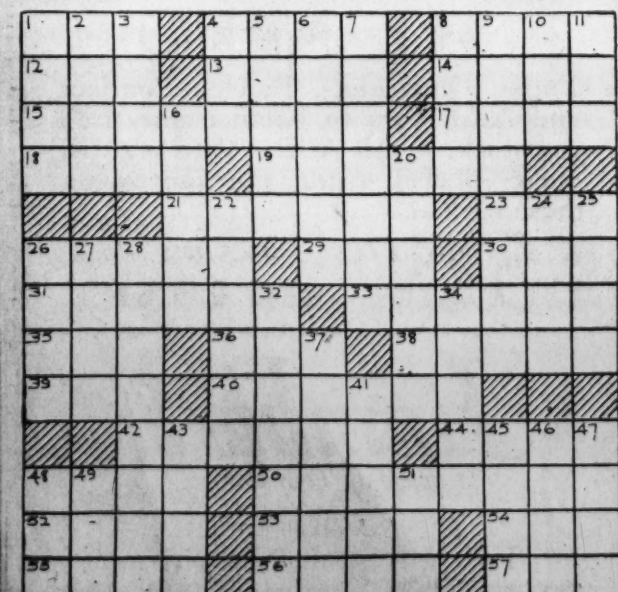

1. Among the causes are: Venereal disease, cancer, age, weather, occupation.
2. Depends on the kind and location.
3. It is for most warts.
4. Repeated applications have been known to cure.
5. Yes; by wearing gloves, shoes and other poisoned garments.
6. No; except avoiding exposure.
7. No.
